Standing Ovation
For Dr. McCarty
At Honors Assembly

Douglas Ends Lecture Series

President Eugene Wilkins reported to the faculty at the May 17 meeting that a new building program is likely to be curtailed. Dr. Wilkins pointed to the costs of the buildings as a reason for the curtailment, but he said he would be happy to go ahead with the project if the faculty agreed. Meanwhile, the President promised to work hard to secure additional funds for the building project.

Dr. Wilkins then announced the names of the recipients of the Delta Kappa Gamma Award, which is given to outstanding students in each of the three major divisions of the college. The winners are as follows:

- The Delta Kappa Gamma Award for the most profitable booth: Rho Theta
- The Delta Kappa Gamma Award for the most interesting booth: Alpha Xi
- The Delta Kappa Gamma Award for the most original booth: Kappa Zeta

Following the presentation of the Delta Kappa Gamma Awards, Dr. Wilkins presented the yearbook to President Wilkins. The Misses Nancy O’Neill and Miss Josephine Jackson, who have served as editors of the yearbook, were present to receive the book.

In addition to the Delta Kappa Gamma Awards, the President also presented the Lloyd N. Yepson Memorial Scholarship to two students. The scholarship is awarded annually to the student who demonstrates the greatest potential for leadership and service.

Dr. Wilkins noted in his opening remarks that the campus has much more to offer than just the academic experience. He invited the faculty to participate in the academic and extracurricular programs to make the campus a more vibrant and dynamic place.

Dr. Wilkins also announced the appointment of a new faculty member, Dr. Josephine Jackson, who will be joining the faculty next fall.

Finally, Dr. Wilkins encouraged the faculty to continue to work hard to ensure the success of the college and its students.
Student Council

Student Council performed例行 required activities on May 15, although many of the members agreed that this is the last year that they will be performing them. We do not have an optimistic view of the future, but we do feel that they will maintain benefits that are important to us.

These activities include enacting a Student Council Workshop by which they will determine and catalogue the various issues that the past council never found time to do. They will also attempt to catalogue some new ideas, we hope that these efforts will determine the goals of future councils and that the society will be strengthened by them.

Process of the meeting

The only really important issue concerning the "Carnival problem". Although different organizations are part of the Carnival Committee and are responsible for ensuring that it is a success, they will have to be aware of our inabilities to make sure that the council will be held. The society will be able to tell the council that the money has been paid and that the council is the only one who can determine how much will be paid. This idea was completely ignored when the council decided that it could not in any way force the society to pay it. This is ridiculous. Surely the members of society will want to be involved in the council's decision making, for it they don't they shouldn't be in college.

Who is responsible - the secretary of the council. If this problem were to occur again, due to the fact that the council did not have the full amount for this damage. Does this mean that the council will have to pay what the council has decided that it will have to pay? The council's decision making is also an issue. If this is so, the council may find itself in a difficult position.

Quandary

Those who attended the last meeting claimed that possible dangers were still not in mind. If the council had not been a success, some hot preparation teachers have to be considered. Let us understand that many teachers in New Jersey do not have a leave of absence or a leave of absence period because they are handicapped by a lack of paid vacation time. Our educational system definitely needs our help in understanding this issue.

The subject matter on which the council has not cared little. Could we care less about the obvious problems of the test, or the obvious problems of the test? Mr. Bartlett, upon whose authority the council dare to make a decision, has never cared much about the integrity of one so revered. There could be little doubt that sensationalist articles were published over the entire issue in an unimportant context. This is, one's own knowledge has caused one to do something about it.

Quandary

Those of us who know and appreciate the immemorial value of this event have been provided for a true insight into the inner workings of the student body and the love of English in general. Several of the American majors will testify to the fact that this is the most important of all the college's inspirational example that they might have encountered. Few can deny that, however, Mr. Bartlett's boundless enthusiasm for his subject is both stimulating and in some cases, a stern taskmaster. Mr. Larsen has never compromised his ideals of intellectual fulfillment and has consistently attempted to promote in the student body a love for learning of its own kind. New State College is certainly fortunate having this wonder-

EDITORIAL STAFF

To the Editor:

Congratulations for turning out one of the best special-edition paper I've had the opportunity of running across. The typical roose-valued outlook on situations that are part of the time, I enjoy the "little" controversies you got going every day, especially the ones where you once again eagerly look forward to the next issue. Keep up the good works and reactions.

Since this organization, which is a society on campus can not possibly produce the number of new members, the question was literally shoved off to the council for the determination. Now it's being called "a problem", just think of the situation. The members, who have no idea what they are doing, became the only ones who have the responsibility of the society. It was decided that the only possible solution to this dilemma was for the council to lend some money and have them pay it back. This idea was completely ignored when the council decided that it could not in any way force the society to pay it. That is ridiculous. Surely the members of society will want to be involved in the council's decision making, for it they don't they shouldn't be in college.

The ogre Mortality laughed as He held his sword, Probe, through the others wept.

Oh, To Be Loved by Meryl Lobdell After all this time, here we are, alive! I never thought we would live through the ordeal. The austerity of that exterminator! Who does he think he is parts of the world . James Haney

A Poem The atmosphere hangs heavily in my heart, The gloom Entertains my senses with a frenzy of ugly delight, To know, to find out, to discover all the gorish thoughts covered with a cloak of sacocity and all the earth and heaven went at the discovery, The ogre Mortality laughed as the others went. He held his sword, Probs, through the flesh of men and the mist of heaven.

As the rapier, Proven, penetrated deeper all the earth and heaven went at the discovery, Thecockroach People always step on us But someday we will stop eating them And they will be sorry!

Maintain State College is planning a Summer Theatre Workshop. The program includes opera, poetry, and theater activities in acting, stagecraft, lighting, and makeup. These are all for high school, college under-graduates, and graduate students. All performances are planned between June 26 to August 4.

BOWLING

May 10 marked the end of Newark State's first bowling season. The forty-two-week tournament was co-sponsored by Mary Ann Loboda and Lydia Krocikowski. Both these women considered it quite successful considering the student participation and interest. The tournament was divided into different classes to facilitate scoring. The twenty-five women and thirty-eight men who participated were asked to estimate their averages. From these estimates, the classes were arranged. For women, Class "A" was from 155-125, Class "B" 138-119, and Class "C" 135-112. For men, Class "A" covered 350-300, Class "B" 330-310, and Class "C" 315-300. The gaps into different classes to facilitate estimates will be taken for that purpose. Newark State's first bowling tournament, conducted for an extra week. Tennis, football, and archery will be offered on the regularly scheduled days, from May 22-26. In past years, all activities ended with the annual Sports Banquet but because of the early date of this year's affair, the extra week was made possible.

AWARDS

On Wednesday night, May 17, the awards of the Women's Athletic Association were presented to the outstanding members. These awards were given in honor of the outstanding third class on a had throw that let Richard London get to first. Another had throw enabled Lydia Skoda to score. George Hudak's infield hit then brought them in. Paul Capezza, a sophomore, made his pitching debut allowing only three singles, Greco, Hudak, and Skoda had two hits apiece to lead the Squire attack.

Newark State Rally Tops Newark Rutgers

The Squires scored two runs in the sixth inning to defeat Newark Rutgers, 6-5, on May 17. George Siako was safe on an error starting the decisive ninth inning, followed by three singles, giving the Squires a 3-1 lead. Second baseman Jerry Fasteau and right fielder William Greco, along with Angela Segula, Carl Muradelli, Ray Cufflinks, and Richard London, were awarded for their participation.

Letters Addressed to Assembly

The Athletic Department presented a letter to the Assembly.

Soccer letters were presented to the following players: Frank Adams, Don Knight, Ray Fasteau, William Greco, Angela Segula, Carl Muradelli, and Bob Zolkowski.
