John Mason Brown, a Judge of the Rehnata Club members could "Seeing Things"--a discussion of finally, Prime Ministers Nebha-Appropriate $5,000 for Kean Building

"Can New York have an honor system?" was a question posed by students at the November 17 Student Council meeting. The agenda were the Kean Building Appropriation, Council concluded that the title of unfinished Council Discusses Honor System

Platt Announces Solosists

"Messiah" Returns to NSC

The fourth annual presentation of Handel's Christmas oratorio, "The Messiah," will be presented at the College on December 5. The solists have been announced by Jack E. Platt, chairman of the Music Department at New York State University at Newark.

Accompanying the soloists will be a 180-voice chorus composed of NSC students and faculty members. Also residing from the surrounding communities will be members of the chorus. The col-

John Mason Brown in his study.

John Brown, a Judge of the Rehnata Club members could...
The developments in the Inter-Fraternity Planning Council (IFPC) are relevant to the student body. The IFPC has taken action to address the problem of racial discrimination within the fraternity system. As President Wilkisson observed in the recent discussion, "Freedom always has its price." Page 1, November 15, 1961, page 2.

The arrest occurred at a party and has spent a night in the Albuquerque police station. The IFPC has called for an investigation of the incident. As President Wilkisson observed in the recent discussion, "Freedom always has its price." Page 1, November 15, 1961, page 2.

Freedom is a value seldom acknowledged by students and often ignored. And never under duress. The low cost of freedom of speech can be clearly known to the people who live it, for how else could they ever have lost it? Present.

Sincerely yours,
John C. Hutchison

Call for Aid

This Spring will mark the arrival of New Mexico State's Fourth Student Council. Most of you recall the success of last year's campaign: This year, under the able guidance of seniors Peter Piehl, Mary Bonner, Kathleen Walsh, the Carnival Planning and Budget Committee. The campaign has been directed by the President's Policy, Planning and Budget Committee.

For three consecutive weeks, the motion to support the freedom of speech was debated in Council. This gave everyone the opportunity to express their views.

The minutes referred to in the education committee, discussing the problems of speech, were also debated in the Council. This was to accept the liberty of young people to express their views.

Students are asked to send money to the Peace Corps. The Peace Corps is an organization of young people from all parts of the world who are interested in Peace Corps work. The Peace Corps is supported through the Treasury of the United States, which provides the necessary funds. The Peace Corps is a voluntary organization, and it is run by the Peace Corps volunteers.

How Advantageous?

The advantages of Peace Corps work are numerous. Peace Corps volunteers are trained in the skills necessary to work in a variety of fields, including education, health, and agriculture. Peace Corps volunteers are also given the opportunity to live and work in a foreign country, which can be an enriching experience. Peace Corps volunteers are also given the opportunity to learn about the culture and way of life of the people they are working with.

The Peace Corps is a valuable experience for young people who are interested in helping others and making a difference in the world. Peace Corps volunteers are given the opportunity to contribute to the lives of people in other countries, to make a difference in the world, and to learn about other cultures. Peace Corps volunteers are also given the opportunity to learn about themselves and their own values.

The Peace Corps is a valuable experience for young people who are interested in helping others and making a difference in the world. Peace Corps volunteers are given the opportunity to contribute to the lives of people in other countries, to make a difference in the world, and to learn about other cultures. Peace Corps volunteers are also given the opportunity to learn about themselves and their own values.

The Peace Corps is a valuable experience for young people who are interested in helping others and making a difference in the world. Peace Corps volunteers are given the opportunity to contribute to the lives of people in other countries, to make a difference in the world, and to learn about other cultures. Peace Corps volunteers are also given the opportunity to learn about themselves and their own values.

The Peace Corps is a valuable experience for young people who are interested in helping others and making a difference in the world. Peace Corps volunteers are given the opportunity to contribute to the lives of people in other countries, to make a difference in the world, and to learn about other cultures. Peace Corps volunteers are also given the opportunity to learn about themselves and their own values.
Carnegie Strings Appear at Newark State

The Carnegie String Quartet

The Carnegie String Quartet will be on campus for an afternoon seminar and evening performance of chamber music Thursday, Nov. 29, in the Education Building. This is an opportunity for either or both appearances of this outstanding group.

Also included in the afternoon seminar is a panel discussion on music and music education. The program is as follows:

Quartet Op. 18, No. 3 Quartet No. 12, No. 3 Admission is free to open to the public.

Historymobile Comes to N S C

The New Jersey centennial Historymobile came to Newark State last week. The Historymobile is sponsored by the New Jersey Tercentenary, and in cooperation with the State Department of Higher Education.

A 52-foot long and 16 feet wide when open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. in Newark State, the Historymobile is sponsored by the New Jersey Tercentenary, and in cooperation with the State Department of Higher Education.

Under the program, qualified American students are awarded scholarships which include room, board, tuition, and fees. Travel expenses are provided by the student's own government. If the student maintains a satisfactory academic record, the scholarship will be continued for the full four-year degree course.

The program was initiated with a pilot project in Nigeria, with 26 American colleges and universities cooperating in the experiment. It was so successful that it was expanded to include 10 other African countries, this year approximately 200 students will study at more than 80 colleges and universities.

The Carnegie Corporation has contributed a grant of $100,000 to cover administrative and operation expenses. Cooperation with colleges and universities in the major African countries will assist the American college in meeting the challenge of disseminating knowledge and preparing the students of the world to use it.

The tractor-trailer, a total of 52 feet long and 16 feet wide when open, is sponsored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and Ford Motor Company. Funds for its construction were contributed by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and various industrial and business concerns.

Clarence to Participate in African Program

(L.P.) Claymore, Calif.,--Three of the Associated Colleges at Claremont are participating in the African Scholarship Program of American Universities. Cooperating are Claremont Men's College, Pomona College and Scripps College.

Under the program, qualified African students are awarded scholarships which include room, board, tuition, and fees. Travel expenses are provided by the student's own government. If the student maintains a satisfactory academic record, the scholarship will be continued for the full four-year degree course.

The program was initiated with a pilot project in Nigeria, with 26 American colleges and universities cooperating in the experiment. It was so successful that it was expanded to include 10 other African countries, this year approximately 200 students will study at more than 80 colleges and universities.

The Carnegie Corporation has contributed a grant of $100,000 to cover administrative and operation expenses. Cooperation with colleges and universities in the major African countries will assist the American college in meeting the challenge of disseminating knowledge and preparing the students of the world to use it.

The tractor-trailer, a total of 52 feet long and 16 feet wide when open, is sponsored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and Ford Motor Company. Funds for its construction were contributed by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and various industrial and business concerns.

Shelton Blasts N.S.A. on "Operation Abolition"

Shelton Blasts N.S.A. on "Operation Abolition" (ASS)—Whereas the United States is an international organization, meeting in its fourteenth quadrennial session—by General Con-

The New Jersey Tercentenary Historymobile came to Newark State last week. The Historymobile is sponsored by the New Jersey Tercentenary, and in cooperation with the State Department of Higher Education.

Under the program, qualified American students are awarded scholarships which include room, board, tuition, and fees. Travel expenses are provided by the student's own government. If the student maintains a satisfactory academic record, the scholarship will be continued for the full four-year degree course.

The program was initiated with a pilot project in Nigeria, with 26 American colleges and universities cooperating in the experiment. It was so successful that it was expanded to include 10 other African countries, this year approximately 200 students will study at more than 80 colleges and universities.

The Carnegie Corporation has contributed a grant of $100,000 to cover administrative and operation expenses. Cooperation with colleges and universities in the major African countries will assist the American college in meeting the challenge of disseminating knowledge and preparing the students of the world to use it.

The tractor-trailer, a total of 52 feet long and 16 feet wide when open, is sponsored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and Ford Motor Company. Funds for its construction were contributed by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and various industrial and business concerns.

Clarence to Participate in African Program

(L.P.) Claymore, Calif.,--Three of the Associated Colleges at Claremont are participating in the African Scholarship Program of American Universities. Cooperating are Claremont Men's College, Pomona College and Scripps College.

Under the program, qualified African students are awarded scholarships which include room, board, tuition, and fees. Travel expenses are provided by the student's own government. If the student maintains a satisfactory academic record, the scholarship will be continued for the full four-year degree course.

The program was initiated with a pilot project in Nigeria, with 26 American colleges and universities cooperating in the experiment. It was so successful that it was expanded to include 10 other African countries, this year approximately 200 students will study at more than 80 colleges and universities.

The Carnegie Corporation has contributed a grant of $100,000 to cover administrative and operation expenses. Cooperation with colleges and universities in the major African countries will assist the American college in meeting the challenge of disseminating knowledge and preparing the students of the world to use it.

The tractor-trailer, a total of 52 feet long and 16 feet wide when open, is sponsored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and Ford Motor Company. Funds for its construction were contributed by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and various industrial and business concerns.

Clarence to Participate in African Program

(L.P.) Claymore, Calif.,--Three of the Associated Colleges at Claremont are participating in the African Scholarship Program of American Universities. Cooperating are Claremont Men's College, Pomona College and Scripps College.

Under the program, qualified African students are awarded scholarships which include room, board, tuition, and fees. Travel expenses are provided by the student's own government. If the student maintains a satisfactory academic record, the scholarship will be continued for the full four-year degree course.

The program was initiated with a pilot project in Nigeria, with 26 American colleges and universities cooperating in the experiment. It was so successful that it was expanded to include 10 other African countries, this year approximately 200 students will study at more than 80 colleges and universities.

The Carnegie Corporation has contributed a grant of $100,000 to cover administrative and operation expenses. Cooperation with colleges and universities in the major African countries will assist the American college in meeting the challenge of disseminating knowledge and preparing the students of the world to use it.

The tractor-trailer, a total of 52 feet long and 16 feet wide when open, is sponsored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and Ford Motor Company. Funds for its construction were contributed by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and various industrial and business concerns.

Clarence to Participate in African Program

(L.P.) Claymore, Calif.,--Three of the Associated Colleges at Claremont are participating in the African Scholarship Program of American Universities. Cooperating are Claremont Men's College, Pomona College and Scripps College.

Under the program, qualified African students are awarded scholarships which include room, board, tuition, and fees. Travel expenses are provided by the student's own government. If the student maintains a satisfactory academic record, the scholarship will be continued for the full four-year degree course.

The program was initiated with a pilot project in Nigeria, with 26 American colleges and universities cooperating in the experiment. It was so successful that it was expanded to include 10 other African countries, this year approximately 200 students will study at more than 80 colleges and universities.

The Carnegie Corporation has contributed a grant of $100,000 to cover administrative and operation expenses. Cooperation with colleges and universities in the major African countries will assist the American college in meeting the challenge of disseminating knowledge and preparing the students of the world to use it.

The tractor-trailer, a total of 52 feet long and 16 feet wide when open, is sponsored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and Ford Motor Company. Funds for its construction were contributed by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and various industrial and business concerns.

Clarence to Participate in African Program

(L.P.) Claymore, Calif.,--Three of the Associated Colleges at Claremont are participating in the African Scholarship Program of American Universities. Cooperating are Claremont Men's College, Pomona College and Scripps College.

Under the program, qualified African students are awarded scholarships which include room, board, tuition, and fees. Travel expenses are provided by the student's own government. If the student maintains a satisfactory academic record, the scholarship will be continued for the full four-year degree course.

The program was initiated with a pilot project in Nigeria, with 26 American colleges and universities cooperating in the experiment. It was so successful that it was expanded to include 10 other African countries, this year approximately 200 students will study at more than 80 colleges and universities.

The Carnegie Corporation has contributed a grant of $100,000 to cover administrative and operation expenses. Cooperation with colleges and universities in the major African countries will assist the American college in meeting the challenge of disseminating knowledge and preparing the students of the world to use it.

The tractor-trailer, a total of 52 feet long and 16 feet wide when open, is sponsored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and Ford Motor Company. Funds for its construction were contributed by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and various industrial and business concerns.

Clarence to Participate in African Program

(L.P.) Claymore, Calif.,--Three of the Associated Colleges at Claremont are participating in the African Scholarship Program of American Universities. Cooperating are Claremont Men's College, Pomona College and Scripps College.

Under the program, qualified African students are awarded scholarships which include room, board, tuition, and fees. Travel expenses are provided by the student's own government. If the student maintains a satisfactory academic record, the scholarship will be continued for the full four-year degree course.

The program was initiated with a pilot project in Nigeria, with 26 American colleges and universities cooperating in the experiment. It was so successful that it was expanded to include 10 other African countries, this year approximately 200 students will study at more than 80 colleges and universities.

The Carnegie Corporation has contributed a grant of $100,000 to cover administrative and operation expenses. Cooperation with colleges and universities in the major African countries will assist the American college in meeting the challenge of disseminating knowledge and preparing the students of the world to use it.

The tractor-trailer, a total of 52 feet long and 16 feet wide when open, is sponsored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and Ford Motor Company. Funds for its construction were contributed by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and various industrial and business concerns.
Cagers to Open Season
Play Jersey City at Home Friday

The varsity basketball team opened its season Thursday, December 1, with Jersey City State College. Five of the men from their Con­ference Championship squad have a strong Junior Varsity last year ready to fill the openings.

The team is handicapped by a lack of height with the loss of the 7'3" New Observer and the 7'2" North Point. However, Bob Schmitz and Charlie Grua are handicaps that will be overcome for a successful season.

The height handicap led to chewing in the loss last year rather than the deliberate offense that was used last year. When applied to Coach La Russo said, "This club in going to have to depend on the personnel we have this year. Along with that we must all MUST add desire to our menu. Without desire to win, we won't make much of a showing."

Returning from last year's squad will be Co-captains Mike Duffy and Art Wojciechowski. La Russo was a first-year sen­ior is a good all around player. He has improved his shooting ability and has to score from that area this year. He is a good free throw shooter. Snipes, a 5'10" senior, average 13 points per game. He has the makes of a good corner man if he can get himself into shape. George Kunda, a 6'1" freshman has experience with the boards. William Kennedy is a good middle man on the fast break and a fine back court player. Carl Marinelli, a junior with a previous high school experience. He gave rebounding strength to the team.

The Alumni, although down by twenty points at halftime, did not have the desired will to win. La Russo and Jack Mott, they both had fourteen points with four minutes to play. The team with their great speed and quickness were able to pull away and walked off the floor with a hard fought victory.

The team has worked hard in practice and scrimmages and are ready to make a strong bid for a key City College Conference Championship.

Mr. James Day, fencing in­structor, has appointed the new fencing team. The team will begin the 1960-61 season at a three exhibition matches. The club has a number of freshmen with previous high school experience. These are all freshmen who have previous high school experience. These are all freshmen who have previous high school experience. These are all freshmen who have previous high school experience.

The team has worked hard in practice and scrimmages and are ready to make a strong bid for a key City College Conference Championship.