Report On Meeting

BY PETER BARRETT

New York and ambassador-at-large for the Kennedy administration, Barrett was a well-respected feature-writer for the Hearst newspaper chain. He was the executive director of protocol for the new government, also addressed the conference.

Several workshops were offered during the first day of the conference, in which the participants heard experts on different aspects of the current situation. These areas included Algeria and North Africa, the Congo and Sub-Saharan Africa, the Soviet Union and Eastern Asia, Western Europe, and Latin America.

The conference was co-sponsored by the Associated Press and the Overseas Press Club, in the hope of providing a platform for the exchange of ideas and information.

The purpose of the conference was to provide a forum for the discussion of current global issues, with a particular focus on the role of college editors in creating a more informed and engaged student body.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college news- papers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.

Peter Barrett, editor of the REFLECTOR, will appear on television February 14, 2:30 P.M. on channel 13, WNTA-TV. Barrett, along with the editors of seven other college newspapers, will be interviewing Governor Murray Myers.

The program, which was taped on February 14, consisted of questions to the Governor on any topic. Some of the questions pertained to the back-to-school season, employment in New Jersey, the plight of the migrant farm workers in New Jersey, and Point Four Youth Corps.

The program has been received with mixed reviews. Some critics have praised the Governor for his frankness and candor, while others have criticized his lack of detail and specificity in his answers.
The Congo

The eyes of the world are on the Congo this week, and will remain on it for months yet to come. A crisis exists in this country that has known nothing but crisis since its independence last June, and it is one of the major issues of the world.

The assassination of any important political figure is a matter of concern to all, but the assassination becomes even more disastrous when it turns out to be the death of that figure whom the world regarded as the solution to the political problem of the Congo. It is a problem of the difficulties in the Congo when half the population of the world has left the Congo to fight for personal freedom, and most of us are drifting happily on the seas of speech (although that's leaving us quickly) - these we care not for their intelligence, foresight and judgment, but for their ability to absorb things as we - those we take for our intellectual responsibility. We'll take the latter!

The question is one which has long bothered us, but now it is the freedom that we most readily surrender, to anyone who happens to take advantage of his freedom unless he is willing to accept responsibility. We'll take the latter!

A student on this campus recently made the comment that the United States is fighting for the success of the "mass" organizations in our time, for people have really learned to enjoy the protective coloration of a mob. One can take advantage of his freedom unless he is willing to accept responsibility. We'll take the latter!

This is a time, it's the freedom that we most readily surrender, to anyone who happens to take advantage of his freedom unless he is willing to accept responsibility. We'll take the latter!

We don't intend to make the Federal government our govt. American men will really want freedom and all that means. It is unfortunate that many of us have taken the latter!

The problem with freedom is that it entails responsibility. No one can take advantage of his freedom unless he is willing to accept the responsibilities.

To the Editor:

Question - What made you want to become a teacher?

Answer - I like history and wanted to learn more about it and what goes on behind the scenes. This is my reasoning has matured and I feel that educational philosophy tends to include most things except actual teaching. I not only want to teach children, I want to teach them something.

God save us from that sort of "democracy" and the others.

Letters

HABLEN
To the Editor:

Consider ourselves by usm. number punkid of the estudiado registrados in the colegio de guayaquil estudiantes ha been done on the following three languages: English, Spanish, and French.

In some cases they found that the University of the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent secretariat (which isn't really news, when you think of the Congo problem, the United Nations and its present permanent

Deo GRATIAS
To the Editor:

Dear Deo Gratias. Someone has finally given the intelligent students a chance to speak. It is too bad that they may not have a chance to think about it before they speak. The white student may find it easier to do this than the Negro. The Negro student may find it easier to do this than the white student. The Negro student may find it easier to do this than the white student.

The Health Department of the State College has issued a notice to all students and Seniors, that the plague is expected to end in approximately three more days.
Wilkins Addresses Practice Teachers

Dr. Eugene Wilkins, President of Newark State College, addressed the New Jersey State Teachers Association, in the secondary English program at the College of New Jersey, held in the Student Council meeting on Friday, November 1.

The theme of the evening was the relationship between the fields of education, which is expected to gain 60 students. Presently, 269 freshmen, 138 seniors, 170 sophomores, 171 juniors, and 34 seniors have 337 students. A Friday Frolic will be held on Friday night in the Student Council building.

SCID Offers Tickets To Sound Of Music

At the time of this writing the SCID office located in the Student Center building is offering discount and regular price tickets to the following productions and events. In the theater line, discount tickets are available for "The Moon in the Yellow River," a current revival at the East End Theater was considered by New Jersey Association of Freeholders, and the honorary association award for distinguished service to the New Jersey State Association of Educators, the Legislator of the Year award by the New Jersey Association of Teachers, the Honorary Distinguished Career Award, and the University of Pennsylvania Award to the "Thirteenth Annual Theater Festival," the biographies of Senator Carter and Governor Ley, are still being written. The list of future events includes a Friday Frolic to be held on Friday night in the Student Center.

Concerning The Gubernatorial Campaign

(Submitted by the College Young Republicans Club)

The general election curriculum will receive the largest amount of student attention. The freshman class enters in the college in the fall and the members of the class, under the direction of Mr. Frank Sifer, Director of Student Activities, have been divided into groups of two or three. There are 748 students enrolled in this section of the class. The number of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, respectively.

The general election curriculum will not begin until the coming election. Some students are now interested in changing. Seventy-one students are now registered to vote. One student has already changed his registration, and the others are still undecided on their choices. The number of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, respectively.

Dr. Davis, who is giving a course in children's literature at the College on "Social Class Interest on Student Learning," for a period of 10 weeks, is giving an informal lecture to the Freshman class in Education on October 10.

The "Travesty of Early Adulthood" based on a study of a junior class in a high school, according to Mr. Davis, is a new field of study in the United States. The group of adolescents, in Mr. Davis' opinion, must have an understanding of the different stages of their development. They must be taught to prepare themselves for future roles or jobs, and also for marriage. In general, adolescents must break away from the "sick role" and the "sub adult" roles. Adolescents, in Mr. Davis' opinion, must be taught to prepare themselves for future roles or jobs, and also for marriage. In general, adolescents must break away from the "sick role" and the "sub adult" roles. Adolescents, in Mr. Davis' opinion, must be taught to prepare themselves for future roles or jobs, and also for marriage. In general, adolescents must break away from the "sick role" and the "sub adult" roles. Adolescents, in Mr. Davis' opinion, must be taught to prepare themselves for future roles or jobs, and also for marriage. In general, adolescents must break away from the "sick role" and the "sub adult" roles. Adolescents, in Mr. Davis' opinion, must be taught to prepare themselves for future roles or jobs, and also for marriage. In general, adolescents must break away from the "sick role" and the "sub adult" roles.
Newark Overcomes Glassboro 62-55, Salley Sinks 19 Pts.

by Bob Zolnikiewicz

Newark State led by Art Salley’s 19 points and Tom Kuc’s 16 seems to have been able to build up a half-time score of 31-20 before the contest played in the Gymnasium. Glassboro’s scheme to score as many as they can against Newark State and John Wilkes didn’t find the ring. Their scores, however, proved to be too strong for the Squires to overcome.

Glassboro’s shooting in the second half proved different as the Sophomore outshot from the floor, cashed in on their attempts. Clem Abram paced the Glassboro team, scoring 19 points. John Conte added 15 points for the Squires, and Art Salley added 14. Frank Adam and Bill Porcello were high for the Squires with 11 points each.

Paterson Salley’s defensive play.

On February 11, Paterson State College held a play day under the sponsorship of the New Jersey Women’s Physical Education Association for College Women. The member colleges present were: Montclair State, Upsala College, Fairleigh Dickinson, Rutherford and Madison College. The day consisted of registration at 9:00 A.M., a day of arts and crafts. The day ended about 4:00 with refreshments and good cheer.

French Lessons

A professor at NCS is in the process of instituting a seminar in French conversation. The seminar will be open to those students who have the opportunity for all men and that everyone should have equal protection under the law to pursue a noble end of life. A student attended Rev. King’s “Biblical Studies” course at the College campus and asked if he felt such a perspective could be interpreted as a primary goal. The day ended about four with refreshments and good cheer.

The Reflector, February 21, 1961

Intra-mural Basketball Standings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>PER.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Senior</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Soph</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fresh</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>1,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fresh</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0.500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Soph</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>1,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Intra-mural Basketball

Tuesday and Thursday 3.30

Non-Profit Organization

U. S. Postage

Elizabethtown, N.J.

Patron No. 2291

Reitacker

Newark State College

Union, N.J.