The INDEPENDENT’s request for an additional $2,200.00 appropriation was refused at Student Council’s March 30th meeting. Other items on the agenda were all college picnic and discount tickets for NSC students. In the business session, assistant treasurer Peggy Kosek reported that $2,900.00 appropriated to Student Council for the fiscal period of 1962-63, $2,900.00 had been spent leaving a reserve account of $5,000.00. The Council agreed to provide the basis for the refusal to accommodate the INDEPENDENT with the funds it needed to print to the end of the year. Expenditures also included in the $2,900.00 was a traditional editors, and incidentals such as printing and transportation expenses. Angelo DeMartino suggested that Council appropriate enough money for the INDEPENDENT to publish until the end of the year, but that all other expenses be eliminated. “We’ve all got to make sacrifices,” she emphasized. Peggy Kosek told a reporter for the campus newspaper that the reason it was not possible for such a request to be made was that the appropriation to the paper was because $2,100.00 of the $3,300.00 will, at a later date, be requested by the leadership committee before the next meeting without cutting off the paper’s function. The original appropriation was the first one of the year that had been refused by Council.

Attention

To The Students: Women students are reminded that skirts that are short are not to be worn to classes and that they are not to be worn on campus before 4:30 p.m. and then only in the gymnasium. The juniors and others who have participated in teas recently are to be considered for the work and success in having their class members come suitably attired for social functions.

During the examination period the rule about slacks and shorts is relaxed. This is not to be taken as a change in the regulations. Please give your配合 book concerning slacks and shorts.

Sincerely yours, Eugene G. Wilkins President

Attention Seniors!

Some seniors are either unaware of, or indifferent to the great deal of hard work and preparation that goes into the college admission process. Director of Student Teaching Placement and Follow-Up, goes to a great deal of trouble to arrange interviews and have competent representatives of the college come to your school.

As testimony of the confidence and faith it has in its educational system and the students it has produced, the State of New Jersey, as testimony or the confidence and faith it has in its educational system and the students it has produced, the State of New Jersey, through the school districts are opening their doors to not only Dr. Mc McCreery, but also the interviewers.

As testimony of the possibility or the fact or the possibility of the fact that a few students can damage the reputation of the college and, therefore, the chances of good students to obtain positions as representatives of their college, we have gone to great lengths naturally only negatively to the college and its students.

Seniors, if you sign up for an interview, make sure you show up. If you do not show up, they will not be impressed. You will lose the opportunity to present yourself to the college's best representatives.

To the Editor:

We have resolved to grant the appeals of the 117 students who were denied the privilege of an interview. Acceptance depends upon personal recommendation and it is up to us to evaluate the student's qualifications and suitability for the college.

We have come to the conclusion that you are a prime candidate and we are confident that you will do your utmost to succeed in the college.

Thank you.

The "Taming of Shrew" will be presented by the New York State College of Education's "Poste's Court" next month. It is under the direction of Mrs. Fry, cut by Miss Josephine Mota of the Music and Field Services department of the college. Certain parts of the production have been made to suit present contemporary form of musical comedy. In this play, the plot does not adhere strictly to the type used in Shakespeare's era. In an electric Playhouse. It is, rather, reminiscent of the ballyhooing of today's stagings when performing for the courtyard of a patron's residence.

The restoration of the iron "D" southwesternly of the "Poste's Court" has been undertaken by the college's maintenance staff. Theatre Guild who has had experience off-campus in iron for-ishing.

Sketches and plates of the cos-temporary production of "The Taming of Shrew" will be exhibited on campus in the near future, announced Mrs. Fry, advisor to the Theatre Guild. This exhibition will be made available to other companies of players after the NCS performance, Miss Fry added. The American Costume Company of New York is handling the exhibit.

The following names were included in sketches of people previously listed of the cast: Virginia Cania, a freshman English major, who also sings. Jeffrey Wilson, also a freshman English major, is Dean's List. Other bridesmaids are: Mary Donalda, Jean Massa, and Karen Rojo of Roselle. Among the junior bridesmaids are: Mary Lodell, Paula Steinerman, and Annette Waldbrot, who received the couple's invitations to cut the cake. These friends came from Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, and were graduates of the class of '64.

Carnival Royalty

Nominations Due

Re: Circus

Dear Sirs:

I hope that you are making full use of this public forum to publicize the circus which is to have its first performance in our community. I am sure that the circus will be a big hit and I hope that the proceeds will go towards the purchase of the needed equipment for the school. I would like to hear your plans for the circus, as I am sure that it will be a big success.

Sincerely,

The New State College baseball team opens its season this week with three home games. They start with Jersey City State, Tuesday, then N.C.E., Thursday, and Newark Rutgers, Saturday, in a first-half conference contest. The Saturday doubleheader starts at 1:30 P.M. and the win on Wednesday, April 11, the New State College baseball team beat the Leave for the first time in 12 years. The win gives the team a 3-2 record for the season.

The starting lineup is set with the exception of the pitching corps. Four new men have made their debut. The mound staff is headed by Todd Civetta, a senior transfer from Seton Hall, and Fred Kusma, a junior transfer from Union Junior College. Todd Civetta, a senior transfer from Seton Hall, will hold down the keystones. Kevin Tucker and Richie Giallubba, a pair of freshmen, have won outfield berths.

The veterans, CookieUribe at first, Ed Speno at third, Bill Baldwin at catcher, and Jerry Greco in right field, are all playing their fourth year. The mound staff is headed by Todd Civetta. Black is a good pitcher in high school, who has trouble keeping the ball out. If he can make the mound staff new, and keep his game intact, several games have been won off the mound, Ed Speno at third, Bill Baldwin at catcher, and Jerry Greco in right field, are all playing their fourth year.
