President's Corner

Five thousand copies of the Alumni Bulletin have just been issued and distributed. Each new alumnus is given an opportunity to maintain contact with your college friends after graduation. In order to maintain our strength, most of your professional career development will be handled by friends socially and professionally from time to time through the years to come. First, as a means of continuing friendships, the Alumni Association (in cooperation with the University) as well as a means of continuing professional contacts, it should lead to opportunities for greater service and better placement within the professional world.

Last year the student body decided to enter into a plan whereby each graduating class automatically receive a five-year paid-up membership in the Alumni Association immediately following graduation. We know you are looking forward to this excellent opportunity for social and professional association after graduation.

House Committee

The membership of this year’s house committee is predominantly juniors who have eight members and 23 seniors. The official committee is as follows: H. C. A. Ill: Marilyn Marksman: juniors; Gertrude Hayes; Penny Helms; Faye D. Davis; Sally Henry; June Freundick; Evelyn French. The sophomore team is: Patricia O'Brien; Nancy Roy. The sophomores are: Barbara Harris; Julia Terry; Doris Dufek; Greg Whiteman, Paul Dufek, Steve Dufek; Mary Anne Loughlin. The seniors are: Miss Thompson. The house committee’s advisor is Dr. Whitman.

Newspaper Board Attend Conference

Five REFLECTOR staff members represented the college at the annual Associated College Press Conference held on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, October 20, 21, and 23 at the Hotel Statler in New York. In addition to addresses by journalists and noted newsman, the group attended workshops, clinics, and panel discussions on every phase of newspaper activity.

Joan Erbach and Elizabeth Chepelen, both in the class of 1956, attended the opening session on Thursday. After opening addresses by Mr. Fred Birmingham, managing editor of Esquire magazine, the new color TV news cast was given by Douglass Brinley from the NBC studios. The students who toured the CBS television studios. The girls then attended sectional meetings on Friday and Saturday.

On Friday, Pat Burke, editor of the REFLECTOR, attended a workshop on newspaper editors with Helen Steifer, associate editor of the New York Times. Then future editor participated in feature and layout workshop.

The conference dinner and dance was held Friday evening and an afternoon conference was held on Saturday morning after a closing convocation at 11:00.

On Thursday, October 16, N.S.T.C. students went to the polls in a mock presidential election for the presidency. The election was carried out by the efforts of the two political machines: the Whiter and the Blue. The Whiter was the climax of a few weeks’ efforts by the efforts of the two political machines.

Loan Fund for Students

Student loan funds are eligible to all students of the college. It is used for any purpose the committee sees fit. The committee consisting of the president, the dean, the director of student personnel, and the deans of men, all serving ex-officio.

Approved loan shall carry an annual service charge of $1.00 per year, payable in advance when the borrower is a student at the college. Such loans start bearing interest on the day after the amount of the loan is due.

_cls Adams

Students submitting these pictures for inclusion in the yearbook will be notified by Dr. Whitman or Miss Thompson.

Annual, Paper Given Awards

The 1953 MEMORIALIA has received a first place award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, with contest evaluations more than one thousand college yearbooks.

A second class award was presented to the REFLECTOR for the second semester, beginning with the prudential issues. The newspaper’s thirty-two-fifty points short of first place, the classification it had received last January for the first time since 1946.

Hankins Co-Author New Series Of Geographies

The 1953 MEMORIALIA has received a first place award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association with contest evaluations more than one thousand college yearbooks.

A second class award was presented to the REFLECTOR for the second semester, beginning with the prudential issues. The newspaper’s thirty-two-fifty points short of first place, the classification it had received last January for the first time since 1946.
Freezers Horrors!

By Arlene Goldfarb, '55

It’s really and precisely a horror that this ice machine provided has the housewife with as many headaches as it has a much easier time of it. There is, however, one item that she can’t seem to be able to live without. This is a dire case. This piece of apparatus is the refrigerator, and one of the most dangerous type is the one equipped with a freezer and it is especially irritating to people who date on ice cream.

When the family contains a college sophomore as in the present situation, you see this is a very small number, being 500 feet or upwards. Unlucky that the only method laid down in the law, but the ineffective use made of this method by the average voter. The thing is, the primary may party may seek a nomination and any group of party members may be organized as a rival to the primary, so that the voting at the primary could be nullified by a rival group. Only if the fringe of either party’s members could make full use of the free opportunity given to them, would the selection of the primary candidates to the active small group be made. For the present, however, the primary could become what it was intended to be — by the election laws of New Jersey — namely by the election of the Federal ticket.

The saddest cases on record are those where the home has a television set, and the little sister in the bedroom which is our living room. I say so because there is no place and quiet for work. I say so because I can’t imagine being alone in a house with this monster of sheer torture.

Well, modern science got us into the television age, and this is how we got out of it by deciding to make this machine in the back yard.

This is What a Doctor

A recent article in a magazine called "Campus Cues for Clothing" has shocked the student body at the University Daily.

Here, says the Kansan in hurt tones, is what we have been thinking. A student to have his "Mama's" coats, eight pairs of slacks, two sweaters, 12 dress shirts, 30 sport shirts, 16 neck ties, four pairs of shoes, and 13 pairs of socks.

Concludes the editorial: "A Collier's representative is in the house, and we are sure to get herself take care of this machine in the back yard."

Q. How do you suggest candidates be chosen for the primary?

A. I don't know of any better way for choosing candidates for the Primary than the one now prescribed by the election law. Any person can become a primary candidate by having a nominating petition signed by a specified number of registered voters. Any town can see this is a very small number, being 500 feet or upwards. Unlucky that there is no method laid down in the law, but the ineffective use made of this method by the average voter. The thing is, the primary, may party may seek a nomination and any group of party members may be organized as a rival to the primary, so that the voting at the primary could be nullified by a rival group. Only if the fringe of either party’s members could make full use of the free opportunity given to them, would the selection of the primary candidates to the active small group be made. For the present, however, the primary could become what it was intended to be — by the election laws of New Jersey — namely by the election of the Federal ticket. This is What a Doctor

Q. What should be the "All or Nothing" principle of the electoral college?

A. There is really only one alternative: to have the president of the United States by a direct vote of the whole voting population with regard to distribution by states. It must be returned, however, that the States is a Federal Union of forty-eight self-governing states. The "All or Nothing" operates in the college is based on the federal idea that the people in the several states from which the idea arises often are chosen by direct vote of the nation at large, the voice of the less populous states (most of the future members of the college) being equal to that of the ten or largest states. Consider, for example, that the states of Illinois and New Jersey and Pennsylvania may be approximately one-fifth of all the states, for the purposes of the college, and the student would undoubtedly be more democratic. This would be achieving more democracy, however, at the expense of losing the state’s right to be best and ready to make this compromise. A compromise is now being considered in the college which would retain the system of each state having so many electoral votes, but instead of all of a state’s electoral votes going to its electorate, any person who receives the plurality of votes in that state, the electoral college would be chosen by the state’s representative in proportion to the state’s popular vote. This would abolish the "All or Nothing" principle and make the plan of electoral college of a state a more accurate reflection of the state’s popular vote. But it wouldn’t really eliminate the basic source of discontent which is that the distribution of electoral votes is not in proportion to the popular vote for very reason (Continued from Page 3)
Student Council News

By Martha Rose Shannon '55

Attention—You may be pleasantly surprised one morning when you (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student representation to the council was the most significant subject of discussion at the last meeting. It seems that there are a couple of sections who showed very little interest in the council. This may be due to several reasons, which the council is eager to discover so that it can disolve or try to dissolve the problem of attendance. The representation of your section is necessary for you and for the council. The next meeting will be on November 10, 1952 at 2:40 P.M., in room 28. Will you be represented?

Downes Answers

(Continued from Page 2)

quarter of a million people had VOTE "You (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student Council News

By Martha Rose Shannon '55

Attention—You may be pleasantly surprised one morning when you (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student representation to the council was the most significant subject of discussion at the last meeting. It seems that there are a couple of sections who showed very little interest in the council. This may be due to several reasons, which the council is eager to discover so that it can disolve or try to dissolve the problem of attendance. The representation of your section is necessary for you and for the council. The next meeting will be on November 10, 1952 at 2:40 P.M., in room 28. Will you be represented?

Downes Answers

(Continued from Page 2)

quarter of a million people had VOTE "You (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student Council News

By Martha Rose Shannon '55

Attention—You may be pleasantly surprised one morning when you (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student representation to the council was the most significant subject of discussion at the last meeting. It seems that there are a couple of sections who showed very little interest in the council. This may be due to several reasons, which the council is eager to discover so that it can disolve or try to dissolve the problem of attendance. The representation of your section is necessary for you and for the council. The next meeting will be on November 10, 1952 at 2:40 P.M., in room 28. Will you be represented?

Downes Answers

(Continued from Page 2)

quarter of a million people had VOTE "You (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student Council News

By Martha Rose Shannon '55

Attention—You may be pleasantly surprised one morning when you (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student representation to the council was the most significant subject of discussion at the last meeting. It seems that there are a couple of sections who showed very little interest in the council. This may be due to several reasons, which the council is eager to discover so that it can disolve or try to dissolve the problem of attendance. The representation of your section is necessary for you and for the council. The next meeting will be on November 10, 1952 at 2:40 P.M., in room 28. Will you be represented?

Downes Answers

(Continued from Page 2)

quarter of a million people had VOTE "You (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student Council News

By Martha Rose Shannon '55

Attention—You may be pleasantly surprised one morning when you (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student representation to the council was the most significant subject of discussion at the last meeting. It seems that there are a couple of sections who showed very little interest in the council. This may be due to several reasons, which the council is eager to discover so that it can disolve or try to dissolve the problem of attendance. The representation of your section is necessary for you and for the council. The next meeting will be on November 10, 1952 at 2:40 P.M., in room 28. Will you be represented?

Downes Answers

(Continued from Page 2)

quarter of a million people had VOTE "You (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student Council News

By Martha Rose Shannon '55

Attention—You may be pleasantly surprised one morning when you (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student representation to the council was the most significant subject of discussion at the last meeting. It seems that there are a couple of sections who showed very little interest in the council. This may be due to several reasons, which the council is eager to discover so that it can disolve or try to dissolve the problem of attendance. The representation of your section is necessary for you and for the council. The next meeting will be on November 10, 1952 at 2:40 P.M., in room 28. Will you be represented?

Downes Answers

(Continued from Page 2)

quarter of a million people had VOTE "You (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student Council News

By Martha Rose Shannon '55

Attention—You may be pleasantly surprised one morning when you (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student representation to the council was the most significant subject of discussion at the last meeting. It seems that there are a couple of sections who showed very little interest in the council. This may be due to several reasons, which the council is eager to discover so that it can disolve or try to dissolve the problem of attendance. The representation of your section is necessary for you and for the council. The next meeting will be on November 10, 1952 at 2:40 P.M., in room 28. Will you be represented?

Downes Answers

(Continued from Page 2)

quarter of a million people had VOTE "You (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student Council News

By Martha Rose Shannon '55

Attention—You may be pleasantly surprised one morning when you (who drive) come to school and find that there is a place for YOU to park, as there is—next present, a committee working to that end. You will hear more about this later.

Student representation to the council was the most significant subject of discussion at the last meeting. It seems that there are a couple of sections who showed very little interest in the council. This may be due to several reasons, which the council is eager to discover so that it can disolve or try to dissolve the problem of attendance. The representation of your section is necessary for you and for the council. The next meeting will be on November 10, 1952 at 2:40 P.M., in room 28. Will you be represented?
Women in Sports

Women's sports started off with a bang this year, as members of our team participated in a volleyball play day on Tuesday, October 21 with the Paterson team.

The women's basketball season will officially open on Thursday, October 30. At this first meeting the girls will meet Coach Benny Schneider, choose team captains, and divide into teams, as well as play some basketball.

At all games, a tailgate will take place at Fairleigh Dickinson Coliseum on Saturday, November 1. The day will consist of workshop meetings during the day and dinner and dancing in the evening.

This conference is being sponsored by the New Jersey and Delaware Association of College Women.

The sports program has begun later than usual this year, so we're certainly making up for lost time.

The Skeleton

By E. Arlene Goldfarb

Here I sit in room 230, thinking that Biology has not yet begun. I can't help noticing staring into space. Mr. Skeletron's cold, hard face.

I can't believe that he once had life. That he lived through battle and storm.

Was his name Smith or Brown or Jones?

What was he besides a bundle of bones?

One thing I must surely be is his know his biology pet. For all of the lectures he must hear, his head on the wall from year to year.

There he stands indefinitely, with his bones all in place for everyone to see.

Always be joked at see what was end.

It is certain to me a horrible end.

Bernstein-Tomas

Another Newark State roamer. Not one of those few right under our noses; the actual engagement took place in the cafeteria.

Larry Tomas, Junior, enrolled in Biological Curriculum, became engaged to Alice Bernstein, Soph G.E., climaxing a two-year courtship.

Sportslight

Here are "10 Ways to Get Them Out of College Without Even Trying," as written in "Pageant" magazine by Prof. Robert Tyson of Hunter College:

1. Bring the professor newspaper clipping regarding a relative of his subject. If you don't find clipping dealing with his subject, bring in clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

2. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If he drops a hint at a lecture, don't stare at it unbelievingly and don't make it.

3. Nod frequently and murmur "How true!" To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.

4. Sit in front, near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake.)

5. Laugh at his jokes. You can tell. If he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.

6. Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask.

7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there drowsy.

8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do math in psychology class and read the book "Salsbury's Delights" for size and color.

9. Ask any questions you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have the answer to a question he couldnt answer, and in your younger brother's second reader at home.

10. Call attention to his writing. Produce an exquisitely pleasant experience connected with your subject. If you have a note on a page or an article, ask in class if he wrote it.

L. G. Frank

Licensed Electrician

We carry all types of electrical appliances