Four Will Participate In Model U.N. Session

Four members of Newark State have been selected to represent the college at the Model United Nations Assembly to be held at Cornell University. Harriet Rosenberg '55, Joseph Chagnon '44, Madge Geddis '55 and Norma Shaver '56 have been chosen to serve as the delegation from Costa Rica on the Trusteeship Committee.

They will present a resolution which will be typical of Costa Rica, a democratic nation whose policies are directed toward the betterment of all the people of the United States.

Each year the colleges and universities of the Mid-Atlantic region, comprising New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia, come together in a model meeting of the United Nations General Assembly. This year, Cornell University, acting as the Secretariat, will host the delegates April 1, 2, and 3.

Each of the colleges sends a delegation which represents one of the member nations. Every delegate is expected to represent the views of his country accurately as possible. In the debates, the committees, and the behind-the-scenes discussions, he will speak for the interests of the country he represents, just as he would his counterpart in the United Nations.

The conference will discuss the problems facing the United Nations in an attempt to suggest some solutions. The questions scheduled for the debate include the unification and rehabilitation of Germany, the establishment of a United Nations base in the Levant, the consolidation of Indian origin in South Africa, the financing of the economic development of underdeveloped areas, a United Nations army, a Convention of the Great Lakes, the admission of new members.

Abba S. Eban, Israel's permanent representative to the United Nations and ambassador to the United States, will deliver the keynote address. He distinguished himself both as a scholar and a diplomat. A Cambridge graduate, he taught Hebrew and Arabic literature at several universities. One of the leaders of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, he was one of the negotiators with England and France that ended the fighting and pleaded the Israeli cause before the United Nations (Continued on Page 3)

Editorial Board Attends C.S.P.A.

The editorial board of the "Reflector" attended the twenty-ninth Annual Convention of the C.S.P.A. at Cornell University on March 12, 13, and 14 at Columbusia in New York. The highlights of the opening day was a tour of the "New York Times" building. The day's events were concluded by an informal dinner in the "Times" service dining room, at the "Times" building.

On Friday various clinics and meetings were held both in the morning and afternoon. At luncheon in the John Jay Hall dining room, on the Columbus campus, the editorial board heard a speech by Dr. Benjamin Fine, education editor of the "New York Times."

Saturday, the convention closed with an election of officers at the executive meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, followed by a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

College Aids In Planning Clinic

Newark State is helping to plan a Student Government Clinic on March 21 at Upsala College. The clinic will involve faculty members and students. Some of the topics to be discussed are: Class Government, Student-Faculty relationship, Discrimination, Social Strata on the Campus, Organization and Clubs.

Newark State is planning the clinic with N.J.C., Upsala, Seton Hall, and St. Elizabeth College.

Eastern States Will Meet

Allen D. Patterson, co-chairman of the Program Committee for the Eastern States Association Conference, which will be held March 27-28, has announced the names of the students from N.S.T.C. who will attend.

Gay Cliver will fill the roll of evaluator for the study group concerned with "the rights and responsibilities of minority groups in a democratic society."

Lois Ries will speak on the topic "sounding out of opportunity for personal development."

Nancy Meyer will act as a record for the panel concerned with "promoting cooperative action in matters of common concern and winning acceptance for majority decisions."

Rena Passacantando will speak on a panel whose discussion will be centered on "acting with a respect for truth when derived from valid data, enlightened opinion and free communication."

Deadline for the April 15 issue will be Friday, March 27. Club and staff reporters are requested to adhere to the deadline date.

Audience Enjoys Soph. Show

Scene From Soph. Show

What is being talked about? The Soph show of course! Starting off with a big bang in their bright array of colors were--can you guess? Why, the Can Can Girls. Led by Ann Bodino, the other dancers were Merle Russomano, Pat Lengyel, Lee Scudero, Sallie Sahlit, Anne Bonnenstein, Lorraine Mielke, Maxine Rayo, Mabel Walther, Barbara Thompson, Nancy Applegate, Gwen Slocum, Marge Margoczy, Kitty Decker, Louise D'Andrea, Grace Lesniak and Helen Fritz. After Jean Davidson and Vito Tibono sang "By the Sea" our beauty contestants did a dance to "By the Sea."

"Surprise! Down the ramp came Gill Hughes and Lynn Dodson on a bicycle built for two, while those on the beach sang "Daisy.""

"Boo, Boop a Doo!" was a cute number done by Marilyn Martucci with Gill Hughes as victim.

All of a sudden it sounds like all the little Goffreys are at Newark State when a few skit's are tuned up and "Uncle Lady" plays. The players were Sina Sallett, Nancy Applegate, Alice Bernstein, Jean Schorr, Alfredo Dodson, Gill Hughes, Marilyn Peters and Ida Morris.

Two more girls join the gang at the beach. They are Irene McManaman and Sally Shaw doing "Every Little Movement."

To end the first act a chorus of girls sang "I Dream of You" and that of course was Dick Brydon. The girls in Ike City W.S.S.F. Fund

Dear Mr. Kitchen:

I have returned from Korea with several strong impressions. One is the extraordinary courage and tenacity of her people in the face of the devastation which war has brought upon that small country. Another is her need for developing a large number of leaders.

Of particular importance in this respect is the training to be provided in universities. As in America, education of Korea will inherit the problems of tomorrow and it is to them that we must look for the leadership and tenacity that will shape her destiny along democratic lines.

Any movement whose goal is to satisfy the material needs of Korean students and teachers and to continue a program of educational reconstruction is commendable. I urge all who can do so to support the good efforts of the World Student Service Fund for assistance to the universities of Korea.

Sincerely,

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Set Org. Elections For Next Week

The race for Student Organization candidates for the offices of president and vice-president will begin today, when delegates hand in section nominations for these offices. The next president of the Student Org. will be selected from the present junior class while the vice-president will be chosen from the present sophomore class.

On Friday, March 20, the nominating convention will meet in room 27 at 2:45. Each section must be represented by two delegates. Substitutes must be selected by the section in the absence of the official delegates. At this meeting, the list of possible candidates will be narrowed down. The remaining candidates will be presented to the student body at the Student Org. meeting on Thursday, March 28 at 10 a.m. in the auditorium.

Primary elections will be held on Friday, March 27 and the final elections on Monday, March 30.

Model Council Proposed

A meeting of the New York - Hudson Valley Area of CCUN was held on March 7, at Finch College in New York. The purpose of the meeting was to formulate plans for the coming Model Conference to be held this spring in New York. The resolutions which have been assigned and the main topics have been chosen.

All of the countries were given to those schools officially affiliated with the New York-Hudson Valley Area CCUN.

All members of the student body from schools participating in this project are invited to contact Mr. Ralchie.
The Black Buddha
By Jo-An Carrell, '54

You probably never thought of there being a Buddha in your house but most of you do have one. He sits there like the silent being he is, holding a ring of shiny black glass. And all it seems to summon him is to make him release them is the ring of the tiny bell and to make this bell ring up his head and his lady-in-waiting. If you want to find out Buddha is your telephone - the lady-in-waiting, the telephone operator!!!

Yes, the telephone is a strange and magical thing we all use often but seldom appreciate. To each of us it has a different meaning. To your father it probably is the thing he just pays the bill on. To the leaders in our educational service area the telephone is a day. This leaves two hundred and forty three days. Then there are fifty two Sundays. Take at least half an hour per day off for lunch and three hours with no work for the weekend. This leaves seventy three days. Then subtract fifty two Saturdays, a couple of holidays, two weeks of vacation, and the Thanksgiving weekend. We're left with ten weeks which makes it possible for her to get food on rainy days without her going out.

And yet again to you it is the center of life. Where would you go if you got up to call your best friend and tell her about your asking you to the Senior Prom or to find out what she thinks of the new girl in school.

Yes, the telephone means something different to all of us. So next time you pick up the receiver and the Black Buddha doesn't answer don't get impatient with his lady-in-waiting. Just remember that there are others who want their share of his riches too.

Eight Weeks And A College Degree

Students go to college fourteen days out of every year, according to the "Southeastern," at Southeastern State College, Okla. Here's how the paper figures it:

Out of three hundred and sixty-five days a student sleeps away a third of this -- eight hours a day. This leaves two hundred and forty-three days in the college year. Take at least half an hour per day off for lunch and three months for summer vacation.

This leaves ninety-one days.

Now subtract fifty-two Saturdays, a couple of weeks off for Christmas vacation, three in spring vacation; and the Thanksgiving weekend. We're left with two weeks of school each year.

Reflecting
Mr. Raichle
By Betty Chephons '56

There is a teacher in our little college who calls himself a sophomore. This sophomore no longer enjoys his second year of faculty membership. For he is the very popular Mr. Donald Raichle of the Social Science department.

Mr. Raichle once attended CC NY night classes, preparing to teach high school business courses. After he finished the war intervened, but with his end he began teaching in his boy's vocational school in Brooklyn. After this enlightening experience he migrated to Nebraska to teach in a co-educational western high school. Of this, Mr. Raichle has many pleasant memories, but he soon decided on a different path and back to the east and college came.

Mr. Raichle taught night school at Rutgers' Paterson and Rutgers-New Brunswick where he held a temporary position. The next year brought him to Newark State Teachers College where he has since occupied a permanent position on the faculty staff.

Today, Mr. Raichle lives in Maplewood with his wife and three children. When he isn't correcting papers, redecorating rooms, cutting the lawn, reading to, wrestling with, or entertaining his three children, he works on his doctoral dissertation for Columbia University, which will probably earn for a very fine Social Science teacher the coveted Ph.D.

center down the coast aisle led by Fran Norcia, in the act were Gloria Schutzman, Louise D'Andrea, Helen Frits, Joan Munson and "Chicki" Marilyn Barnhardt.

In between acts our Old Gold girl student, Alfreda Niemcyik, and a wonderful show with the cast on stage singing "On The Evening of a Rainy Day".

Thanks go to Carol Anthes and Dot Gracy for Lighting and Harold and Margaret Rodin for make-up. Thanks also to a good writing committee for the success of the show. Headed by Gil Hughes the other committee members were: Jean Davidson, Marilyn Martucci, Joyce Halliday, Danni Neubert, John Haner, Lynn Darode, Nancy Applegate, Mary Ann Manno and Helen Frits. Our thanks is also extended to the freshman industrial arts students who aided in the construction of the ramp.

Newman Club Plans Annual Breakfast

The fourth annual communion breakfast, sponsored by the Newman Club, will be held on Sunday, April 28th. Mass will be at Patrick's Pro-Cathedral at 9 o'clock with breakfast at 10:45 at the Military Park Hotel.

The speaker will be Monsignor McNulty, president of Seton Hall. All students and alumni are invited to attend. The tickets will be $2.75.

The House Committee announces that the former fee required to borrow a typewriter has been abolished. The typewriters will be loaned without charge to any student who wishes. Any student interested in borrowing a typewriter should see Miss Slavitt in the Student Personnel Office.

President's Corner

The development plans of the college have been forwarded through three conferences of the Religion committee. These conferences were attended by the leading religious leaders in our educational service area. The first luncheon conference was held on Wednesday, February 18. At this luncheon a group of elementary school teachers came for lunch and for a discussion period. This was followed on March 4 with a group of church workers, and on March 5, with the superintendents of schools of the surrounding area.

These conferences were designed to consider the possibility of developing a religion program for our students. The purpose of the conference was to discuss the development plans of the college, our new site, the new buildings, and plans for future development.

The committee appointed by the State Board of Education met on March 11 to view the various sites recommended for the new college.

Representative students were asked to help plan the new college. Students having particular ideas which should be incorporated in our planning should put them on paper and leave them at the president's office. The meeting of students will be announced later.

Norma Bork Shares Travels

An interesting personality around our college is Norma Bork, a junior who takes the speech handicap course, who came to Newark State last summer from Washington Missionary College. While there, Norma and Paul married, and they were married in December, 1951.

Then began a fascinating honeymoon trip to Brazil, which included a stop-over in Juneau, Alaska, a trip to basic camp in Rio de Janeiro and a visit to a snake farm in Sao Paulo. Then they accepted the Sugar-Loaf Mountain cable car which constituted a thrilling descent. From the top of this mountain, the whole of Rio de Janeiro can be seen. They then took home the famous Statue of Christ on Corcovado Mountain overlooking the harbor in Rio. The landscape in Brazil is striking, the houses being made of stucco with red tile roofs.

Norma and Paul enjoy their visit to Santos, the famous coffee port. They visited numerous colleges, among them the University of Sao Paulo. In Brazil the education system is slightly different than ours. A child attends elementary school for four years; then if his grades are high, he continues for one year in a prep school followed by four years of high school.

The Brazilian government provides free day camps right in the city which offer medical and dental care and supervised play for the children, along with prenatal care for the mothers.

Norma found that Brazilians want to be like Americans and certainly know more about us than we do about them. Brazil is in itself a "melting pot" with immigrants of many nationalities living there. Norma's final comment on Brazil was, "their prices are terrific!" After the traveling trip, around here must seem calm to Norma, who is now working at WISO in radio scripts. When in Washington D.C., Norma spends her weekends "Calling All Youth" among other radio work. Her husband, the pastor of the Manhattan Georgetown Home Missions Church, is from Brazil and now working for his doctorate at Columbia. Eventually he and Norma plans to return to Brazil to teach and work with the speech handicapped.

Scientists Announce New Polio Vaccine

Tremendous recent progress toward control for infantile paralysis has brought us to the threshold of preventing the disease. Because of the support of the March of Dimes by the American people, scientists are now planning the first field trials of a polio vaccine and manufacturers are preparing millions of "colloidal gold" for limited use as a temporary preventive of paralysis.

Despite this, however, 1953 will see outbreaks of polio despite the reports of the National Foundation for infantile paralysis, the American Red Cross, and those saved by the famous gamma globulin will be in such short supply it can be given to fewer than one million children out of a population of twenty-five million in the most susceptible age groups.

The foundation urges that you consult your doctor if your family has any of the symptoms of polio: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back and keep him in bed, away from others till the doctor comes.

If polio strikes, turn to your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for advice and financial assistance where needed.
Mammo Assumes Athletic Post

Frank C. Mammo has been promoted to the post of supervisor of recreation at the St. Francis Xavier Jr. High and High School, it has been announced by the Rev. Patric John, pastor of the St. Francis Xavier C.F. Hall in Jersey City, previously, Frank had served as St. Francis Xavier Jr. High basketball team.

Women In Sports

by Ronnie Waldorf, '54

The Women's Basketball Club started its season with a playday at Drew University on Saturday, February 28. Besides Newark, Drew, Montclair, and Trenton took part in the playday. Newark won two out of the three games, beating Montclair and Trenton and losing to Drew. After the games, refreshments were served in the Drew lounge.

Congratulations to Rita Hekker who took and passed her National Authority on International Relations and Gold scored, a Newark fast game with neither side giving an offensive pattern throughout the game. Fairleigh Dickinson went down to complete a runaway with Jersey City's head coach on March 5 in the Newark Cambridge, he escaped to England during the Nazi occupation of his country.

In 1943 he volunteered for Special Forces, European branch of O.S.S. and carried out several missions behind enemy lines. For his many and gallant exploits, he has been awarded decorations by the United States, Great Britain, France and Holland. At one period during the war, he acted as liaison officer to Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands.

Besides holding various championships in skiing, he coached several world champions and since moving to America has his own ski school.
