

In Kean's OER conference 2021, Dr. Makhzoomy's presentation demonstrated Yarmouk University's experience in overcoming the obstacles of adopting online learning model with students and faculty. He mentioned H5P technology as a solution that is embedded in the YU LMS to help faculty develop interactive content in their courses. This year Dr. Makhzoomy is going to elaborate more about H5P as a top notch tool that help faculty "create, share and reuse interactive HTML5 content in the internet browser"
