Parking Questionnaire Results Revealed

During the month of January, 1964, Dr. Robert A. Rogg, Dean of Students at Monmouth College, surveyed twenty colleges and universities within the New York, New Jersey, New England area with regard to their parking problems. Mr. John S. Korkley, Business Manager of Newark State, was one of the administrators contacted in this survey. The following is an analysis of Dean Rogg's findings.

All 20 of the colleges surveyed require students to register their vehicles. Of the 20, 13 charge the student for this registration: 2 colleges charge $20; 5 charge $10; 1 charges $3; 1 charges $2.50; 2 charge $1; and 2 charge $2.50 for each academic year.

The registered cars are identified in two ways: 17 colleges use decals, while 1 uses a metal tag. There are two colleges which do not use any identification. For the 18 colleges that use identification, 11 require that the decal be placed on the rear window, 4 require that it appear on the rear bumper, and 2 require that it appear on the front bumper. One college requires identification on both the front and rear bumper.

The following are the penalties incurred by the 20 colleges surveyed: Operating a vehicle on campus without proper identification: subject to dismissal; for parking in a "no parking" area, the student would be subject to dismissal; on 4 campuses he would be fined $5; on 1 campus, a fine of $3; on 7 campuses, $2; on 5 campuses, a warning; on one, a conference with the Dean; and on one campus, there is no punishment or penalty for parking in a "no parking" area. For a second offense of parking a vehicle in a restricted area, on 5 college campuses the student would be subject to dismissal; on 1 campus he would have his car removed; on 1 campus he would be fined $10; on 4 campuses, $5; on 1 campus, $4; on 5 campuses $3; on 3 campuses $2; on 3 campuses, $1; on 1 campuses he would go before the conf. NSC Students Contribute To Olympic Team

Students at Newark State are helping to send a United States Olympic Team to the Summer Olympics in Tokyo.

Responding to recent radio pleas by the United States' Olympic contribu­tions, the Men's Athletic Association has raised $81.05 for the Olympic Fund.

The money represents contributions from three recent events as well as the "take" from contribution cannisters at one event. William Garglies '66, president of the Men's Athletic Association.
Spring, the sweet Spring, is the year’s pleasant king:
Then blooms each thing, then maidens dance in a ring.
Cold doth not sting, the pretty birds do sing.
Cuckoo, jug-jug, pu-we, to-witta-woo!
The palm and may make country houses gay,
Lambs trike and play, the shepherds pipe all day,
And we hear aye birds tune this merry lay.
Cuckoo, jug-jug, pu-wee, to-witta-woo!
The fields breathe sweet, the daisies kiss our feet,
The palm and may make country houses gay,
Then blooms each thing, then maids dance in a ring.
Lambs frisk and play, the shepherds pipe all night.
Cuckoo, jug-jug, pu-we, to-witta-woo!
Yea Rebirth

More than a thousand students from scores of colleges - Yale and Swarthmore to Reed and the University of Georgia - have decided to dedicate this coming summer to service in the needy South. Some will assist adult Negroes in voter registration; some by teaching in freedom schools will help out high school drop-outs improve their skills in reading and arithmetic; some will picket in street demonstrations for civil rights; others will lead youth groups in singing, dramatics, folk dancing, and sports. The many jobs will be under the direction, in Mississippi, of the Council of Federated Organizations, which includes CORE, NAACP, INCC, SCLC, and other interested groups. Programs are also being planned in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana.

Students who want to participate are carefully screened. They must be able to pay their own travel and modest living expenses. Experience like that of the Newark State College students who have been tutoring under-achieving pupils in Elizabeth and Newark, will be regarded as valuable preparation for such summer service.

A Young Girls Fancy

(CP0)---A female student at the University of Illinois was placed on "informal conduct probation" last semester for kissing in a parked car, the Daily Illini learned recently.

The Illinois has been carrying on a campaign to get Illinois students with complaints against the disciplinary procedures to file signed complaints with the newspaper. This case brought the total to 13.

Official Illinois regulations do not mention "informal conduct probation," and there is no University regulation against kissing in a parked car.

The student filed a signed statement with the paper last Monday which said that police required her to return to her housing unit in a squad car after they found her in the car with her boyfriend.

The girl returned to her unit just before the 1 a.m. closing time, she said. "It was very embarrassing to be escorted into the lounge by uniformed policemen while everyone was sitting there. It made me feel cheap and ashamed."

The girl said she was only kissing her boyfriend when the police arrived. "I do not feel there was anything unnatural about this," she said.

The Deputy: Good Until Curtain Rises

By Geoffrey C. Sacks

Rolf Hochhuth's controversial play, The Deputy, has blazed its way through the 1507 Atkinson theatre. Credit the German playwright with a sure instinct for his audience in a theatre in which it is impossible not to take the plunge into thinking. "The Deputy" does get one to think about history but how much of this is Hochhuth's fault? Since Mr. Hochhuth has written and directed the play, it is his own function to discuss the play alone.

Senior Mentioned in Semi-Finals

On March 12, 1964 - 1507 college seniors in the United States and Canada learned of their names being put on the Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for first year graduate study next fall, Sir Hugh Taylor, president of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, announced.

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship has been a project which is dedicated to developing 'college teachers who will be the largest private source of support for advanced studies in the liberal arts.' Sir Hugh Taylor has said in making this announcement.

Among the 327 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada which produced this year's Fellowship winners, 49 have been recommended for the Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for the first time. This year's winners may be considered as social studies majors, won the distinction of making the honored list: 1216 students in this year's Fellowship winners, compared to 65 Woodrow Wilson National Fellowships for the last full year's fellowship, has run.

The fellowship was one of five Newark area universities and it is now up to the respective states and the steady stretch of 2000 new, those Philadelphia and Maryland of the society," he continued, ... .

Utilizing the barest of stage sets, throughout the talky first act, it is now time to picket. It builds up tension which any author can achieve... Mr. Hochhuth has tackled by using the figure of the John Birch Society (January 22, 1955):

Elaborating on his personal feelings, Mr. Blackman indicated: "... the President has made the play but this play will not make history. The fire of life slowly dies and leaves only scattered ashes of remembrance.

The Deputy has been fair to other. He covers the theatre. It is good publicity for..."

Typewriters To Be Removed From Library

Critical shortage of typewriters in departmental and administrative offices of the college has led to the decision to terminate student access to three state-owned typewriters that have been located in the college library. These will be relocated in offices that are in desperate need of these machines. However, a complete typewriter will be installed in the library typing room and will be available to student typists for a fee. It should be noted that this kind of service has been widely adopted in college and university libraries throughout the country and the charge of $2.00 per 20 minutes should be sufficient for service in the standard rate found at other institutions. Additionally, a small charge for any coin-operated typewriters will be implemented when utilization of this machine warrants it.

Spring Weekend, which boasted of a short lived but furious snow storm, was climaxed and highlighted Sunday night by the appearance of the Serendipity Singers. The group is billed as a well blended unit that emphasizes the individual talents of its members. They lived up to the latter approach rather well, as they presented a pleasing blend of vocal enthusiasm, and technical skill on numerous instruments.

The group, consisting of Byron Sennett, H. Brooks Hitch, John Madden, Jon Arbenz, Bob Young, Mike Browksy, Lynne Weintraub, Tommy Tilmans, and Diane Decker, presented a veritable nine ring circus, as they moved about their relatively small stage area in kaleidoscopic fashion, often changing positions several times during a single song for solo and group bits (Grouping of the student'sCU. was sponsored). Of the three micro phones happened to be working at the time.

The Serendipity Singers were preceded by the appearance of the "Folk Comedian" Fred Snoot. Snoot's technique, style, and mannerisms even to Jonathan Winters, with a little touch of Bob Hope, to get the good measure. Mr. Snoot, however, never resorted to "cheap shots". In his style emphasized that he was mainly influenced by the "old greats," such as Jack Benny, Hy, Gabe, C. Fields, etc. He elaborated that he was more interested in the reaction of the observers than in the observations themselves. Most of his jokes were written in college, and the fact that Snoot was definitely an asset to the program.

The troop has been touring the country, having appeared at the Bitter End, Miller Kentler's in Chicago, and several appearances on ABC's Hootenanny.

The Hootenanny Program has apparently sparked their rise to success in the folk world more than anything else. Although the Hootenanny will not return to the air next fall, this group undoubtedly has a bright future. Needless to say, the Serendipities enjoy traveling immensely. None of them are married, and they gave the impression that they are having the time of their lives.

As those in the audience might have noticed, the Serendipities include two attractive female members. This reporter was curious about the reaction of Maasa Lynne White and Diane Decker to working with seven males, especially since the situation at Newark State is a revers­al of their plight. Both of them are well pleased with the arrangement, which, one might suppose is in the attitude of the male minority in these hollowed halls. Specifically, the group asserts that they get along quite well together, and that they don't expect any of the serious friction which many smaller prominent combinations have encountered.

As in the case of just about every other folk group around today, the Serendipity Singers are commercialized. As one more clue of the same style to the group's rise to success, the受by the Kingston Trio. They have, nevertheless, retained a freshness and originality to their art, which makes them worthwhile listening to.

In listening to the Serendipities, the reporter noted that they need not think of "ethnic" or "porque" folk music versus the "commercialized" format, but rather simply in terms of sound. In that context the group is more than popular (or should we say sing) well for itself, and this it self realization really counts to the bulk of the folk-oriented audience in the college circuit.

The Serendipity Singers will be appearing again and starting Wednesday, March 25, for five days.

Wrestlers Scrimmage Against Monmouth, N. Rut

The coming of spring means the end of the basketball season. But this year spring also means the end of the wrestling season. This was the first year that Newark State could boast of having anything that resembled a wrestling team.

Under the direction of Mr. Theodore Faraklas, the squad of approximately 12 men, has been practicing diligently all winter. Their season consisted of two scrimmage matches; one against Monmouth at the Squire gym, and the other against Newark Rutgers at the Rutgers gym. These were only exhibition or practice matches at which no score was kept. The matches were scheduled primarily to give the team a taste of college wrestling. According to coach Faraklas, "the team did as well as expected and in some cases better."

Bill Marfasas also stated that although the team was relatively inexperienced they did show desire, enough so to warrant a varsity schedule next year. The schedule next year will be centered around local colleges. The players this year will be the nucleus around which a solid team will be built for next year.

Diplomats Defeat Chi: Ball Leads Scorers

On Saturday evening, March 7th, an overflow crowd of basketball enthusiasts witnessed the contest between the Sigma Theta Chi all stars and the Harlem Diplomats. The Diplomats, who make their home in Canada, play along the same lines as the famed Harlem Globetrotters. The Diplomats did have the height, though, and won the entertaining affair.

The basketball show was opened with a tricky ball handling number staged in the middle of the court. The gym lights were then turned off and fluorescent lights turned on. The Diplomats continued their ball-handling magic in a glowing circle. The game itself was highlighted by comic play and the antics of "Hooks" Harvey. His glasses whose favorite and perhaps only shot was the dunk. Aside from this two there was no one else on the team. Goose Tatum was as serious and undoubtedly wanted to win in the worst way. Apparently, their determination was not quite up to par and the Diplomats, with their superior height and perhaps also with superior luck, came away with the victory.

Viewing the game from the stands, one might just wonder if the Diplomats really know how to play basketball. The Harlem act, not one ounce of polish or professionalism could be discerned. They were extremely sloppy, had very poor defense and were assisted by the shots. Inside the shots. The only players of any competence were "Hooks" Harvey, who was indeed very funny, and the tall player with the glasses whose favorite and perhaps only shot was the dunk. Aside from these two there was no one else on the team. Goose Tatum was as talented as yesterday's mashed potatoes and equally as funny.

The logical retort for this might be that the game was staged as a comedy routine, and then someone might come along and say, what about the Harlem Globetrotters? They have their comedy routine, are polished, are not sloppy, and give the fans their money's worth as well. There is a rumor that the Diplomats might return next year to grace us with their presence. If so a letter should be written to them with only one word on it: Practice.

Congratulations to Fred Ball who once again has earned himself a great honor. Fred, plus four repeaters from last year's team, were named to the Second Team of the New Jersey State College Conference. The Diplomats, who make their home in Canada, play along the same lines as the famed Harlem Globetrotters. The logical retort for this might be that the game was staged as a comedy routine, and then someone might come along and say, what about the Harlem Globetrotters?
