Senior Opens One-Man Show

First Semi-Pro Exhibit

John J. Morello, Senior Industrial Arts major at Newark State College, opened a one-man art show at the Van Buren Street Branch of the Newark Public Library.

Although John has been interested in art for as long as he can remember, he has had little opportunity to do any work in school, this is his first professional show.

Both sculpture and painting will be shown at the gallery, The Big City, and the "Industrial Worker." The show will be open to the public, weekdays, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Upperclassmen, Faculty, Pitch In- Frost Get Acquainted

A new "Orientation Day" for freshmen students was held at the Newark State College campus this fall. The orientation day is an important part of the college's organization and faculty members.

Last June, after exams were over and some of the art students have had a successful year, the students decided to do something to help themselves.

At this time, the school's art students were asked to come to the art department and help with the planning of the scholarship fund.

The "spirited" Sophomore Class, which was organized several years ago, has been working on a plan for art students to help themselves.

Soph's Organize Class Cabinet

The "spirited" Sophomore Class began their college career with a successful orientation program for the freshmen students.

This was the beginning of the Activity Program that has been established by the Sophomore Class and Class Cabinet Officers.

The "spirited" Sophomore Class, which was organized a few years ago, has been working on a plan for art students to help themselves.

The members of this central group are the class president, which include Kaye Thompson; vice-president; Bill Fulmer; secretary; and treasurer; Barbara Lombardo and two delegates from each sophomore section.

The Sophomore Class is organizing a Sophomore Class which will be responsible for organizing their activities for the freshmen.

Soph's and Juniors Act As Hosts

In accordance with the orientation plans that were discussed and drawn up by the Sophomore Class, the freshmen were given a chance to act as hosts and hostesses for the Sophomore Class.

The orientation day was held on September 17, and plans were made for a successful and enjoyable year.

The Sophomore Class emphasized a closer relationship with the other five Sophomore classes in the Activity Program. The Sophomore Class also held a Sophomore Freshman Class Show to the other Sophomore classes, and held a "freshman" show in the Sophomore Class.

In a Welcome Letter sent to each Sophomore, the class officers reminded the students of the need of working together in order to achieve success.

Use of Newark Public Library Deemed Privilege

A new procedure has been established for students who wish to utilize the facilities of the Newark Public Library.

Students have been so much in demand it will be necessary for all non-resident Newark State students to show a definite need for the use of their crowded facilities and to substantiate that they are not required, which are not readily available through the college or local libraries.

In establishing this program:

1. Students must formally apply to the college library, giving reasons for the use of the Newark Public Library.

2. The privilege, given to an student involved in social research, will extend for one semester only.

3. Use of this privilege is not to be abused; it is not to be used for other purposes of the college.

Students granted these favors are also cautioned to adhere to the regulations of the Newark Public Library. In past years there has been considerable concern that students have not been conscientious enough.

Joseph W. Rendell, college librarian, will issue statements concerning this matter. If there is no abuse of the privilege, members of the Student Body may see him.

College Leaders Relate Problems

Class presidents and representatives from service and educational organizations in the six upperclassmen groups attended a Student Leadership Conference at Stokes State College on September 5, 6, and 7.

The purpose of this student operated conference, which was initiated three years ago, is to discuss and attempt to solve common problems of the colleges, and of individual colleges, and to establish a closer relationship among the College Leaders.

Mrs. Link, Guest Speaker

In the afternoon, the group will hear Mrs. Link, Guest Speaker, and will be the topic of discussion.

Mrs. Link, who is president of N.J. Junior College Association, will be interested in art for as long as he can remember.

Junior Paintings

One-Man Show

The four paintings are entitled, "The Torso," "The Super-mosaic," which the young artist, a graduate of the High School of Art and Crafts, will be on exhibit as well as the aforementioned works include, "The Head," "The Torso," "The Super-mosaic" he has on display.

The "spirited" Sophomore Class, which was organized several years ago, has been working on a plan for art students to help themselves.

An additional "information notice" will be placed on the first floor bulletin board after the beginning of the Activity Program, an eventful day. Following, the group will hold a campfire with another group of Sophomore Class.

Faculty, Pitel, In-
Letters to the Students

To the Students of Newark State:
I extend to each of you a hearty welcome at the beginning of a memorable college year, the last which will be held at Newark, the site of our college for more than one hundred years. With rapid college expansion of enrollments throughout the country, this year sees the adjustment locally in that you are a large student body occupying a rather crowded college building. The pleasant prospect of future growth and better facilities we hope will help us to be satisfied with the inconveniences of this year.

We welcome back the upperclassmen upon whom the college depends so much for tradition and conditions. We expect you to give our special welcome for the freshmen, one of the largest classes ever. Friday, September 13, will be the first of the large classes which will become part of the regular picture at the new college campus.

This year we are faced with the starting of a new curriculum for all the teachers colleges, one with that during this year we must not let anticipation start at the beginning of their college work. We must not let anticipation started at the beginning of their college work. The editors of the REFLECTOR invite you to "reflect" the news but also to "reflect" opinions which will be held at Newark, the site of our college.

The dinging board, YOU must share in the responsibility of providing the materials for the "Letters to the Editor" column. The board of editorial staff this year is to produce a stronger student-voiced newspaper. We hope for your cooperation, YOU. You can help achieve this goal for your school paper.

Take advantage of this opportunity--- Sit down now and write YOUR "Letter to the Editor"

Sincerely yours,
The Editorial Board

We who were sophomore guides wish to take this opportunity to say how much we enjoyed Orientation Day held at the college this year. We felt that it was very successful. The freshmen were given a first-hand view of the building. They got to know each other as they were assigned to classes. It was not one of the many encounters one encounters upon meeting a new professor; there was no hesitation in asking questions. They did ask questions freely of their sophomore guides. Another good thing was the opportunity presented us to meet the freshmen. Usually we meet them only during hazing or in clubs. This new chance to meet them brought the two classes closer together.

Again may we express our pleasure and add our hopes that this type of orientation will become a practice of the college.

Jottings

Those students taking a bus from Penn Station in the morning can catch the No. 28 which leaves at 8:10 A.M. from 8:10 A.M. to 8:10 A.M. Club visiting now taking place in college. Decide which club you prefer; then join it. Because of the increase in the number of students at N.S.T.C., the lunchroom is extremely crowded. Please leave as soon as you have finished eating so that others also may eat. If you have any doubts about college being opened in the case of bad weather, listen to WOR between 7:15 and 8:00. School closings will be announced, making it unnecessary to call the college.
Newark Welcomes Bader, Persinger

Hail From Connecticut, Delaware, Ohio, Pennsylvania

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, with their two children, are making their home in Paterson.

Juniors Look To Future

In order to achieve a close rapport between the class members of the Junior year, the Juniors have established a representative council consisting of two delegates from each section.

Coaches have already been formed to work on the idea of some type of evening presentation to help the Juniors.

Looking ahead as far as April, the Juniors have already set the date of April 13th to be spent in the spring and are going ahead with some interesting activities under the leadership of Berny Mahon, President; Peter Guagliari, Vice President; Phyllis Curcione, Secretary.

The first class meeting will be held on March 1st at the meetings hour in the Auditorium.

To Hold Carnival

Political enthusiasts of this college will hold a mock presidential campaign this election year. The college will hold a debate between the candidates and members of both major parties will be represented.

Backers of the Democratic ticket will meet Tuesday, second hour, to determine the pace and strategy by which they will express their views; Republican partisans, Wednesday, meetings hour.

Members of the class of 1958 and those students interested in the establishment of the Student Council are invited to attend the first meeting on Wednesday, October 3rd in Room 24 during Meetings Hour. For those students interested in the Democratic ticket who cannot attend the initial meeting, please contact Stokes Foremost Staff.

Summer vacation or, not the members of the Student Council, continued to fulfill the purpose of their organization during the summer months by meeting weekly at Mrs. Curcione's house. It seems reasonable enough - fifty lollipops for fifty cents. The proceeds will be donated to the Children's Orphanage.

Another idea which the group figured it out herself. What the problem which goes like this:

The person who figures it out drop your solutions in the house of the Newmanites.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins have located in the Oranges.

Obviously! Miss Grossmark received the answer in a letter and since the circulation of the REFLECTOR does not go beyond the campus, her scheme may be perhaps thought of as have a better chance to get the answer. The REFLECTOR staff will try to find out who is anyone now matriculating at N.S.T.C. who could have worked out the problem. If you can figure it out drop your solutions in the box.

N.C. Members Treat Orphans

The past baseball season showed a marked improvement in both the overall record and the caliber of play. Under the leadership of their new coach Gus Janaronne the boys played stellar ball on a number of occasions. The highlight of this fine play was the double defeat of Passaic about half way through the year. Although the record showed a final per centage of 24% under .500 it should be remembered that this is not a poor showing and in contrast to the previous year it is a real advance. Working conditions that would make a person accustomed to finer things pull out his hair, Mr. Janaronne really came through marvelously. Having been head basketball coach for quite some time and being exposed to like conditions in that sport, our new coach was able to make the boys good to whatever exists. Without benefit of a right-handed pitcher and with only a limited amount of opportunity he put together a team which not only posted a fair record but also put a scare into some strong opponents. John, by the way, played his first season as a full-fledged pitcher and did a job of defense in his new position. Bob Giacobbe was the other .300 hitter with an average of .312.

In the pitching line Jack Gut­ter led the team in strike outs while Bob Giacobbe had the most wins. Jack also was a pretty fair hitter. Although his average was below the .300 mark, he did come through with enough key hits to make up for them. On the mound Paul Heits handled the catching duties and did a good job behind the plate. Ray Giacobbe, Art Husonjian, Don Russo, and Walt Szymanski rounded out the team and all contributed to a mighty fine team.

Next season should be an even more exciting one as all the boys but three of the squad returning.

The faculty has been friendly and helpful. We have no football or baseball field, no golf course, no swimming pool and our tiny gym for our basketball. But we have managed quite nicely to keep our heads. There is no school spirit which could do better than this team. The team is 100% enthusiastic and would do anything to continue the spirit which we have established. It is true that today some of the personnel will be leaving us, but we are sure that the team will forge ahead. Our new coach has been working very hard to develop the team and we hope that next year they will be able to achieve new heights.

At a meeting of the newly re­organized Athletic Association yesterday, John Morello, Alice Skinner and Frank Brockman were elected president, secre­tary and treasurer of the organi­zation in that order.

The consensus of opinion among the upperclassmen present that the election of vice-president be postponed until the freshman members of the committee were chosen, so that the class of ’59 might have a chance to be represented in the executive group.

Discussion of the activities for the coming year proceeded in the absence of the freshmen and seniors. The newest and most inter­esting development was the first baseball poster contest sponsored by the A.A. for which a prize of $5.00 was announced as the best poster promoting school spirit by attendance at the baseball games.

Swimming at the Newark Boys Club, bowling and archery are among the numerous other activities sponsored by the Newark State Athletic Association. With a membership of 30 from each student’s tuition at the college, contractor.

Jerry Paradiso, in addition to top batting and fielding, was also active in the athletic activities of the school.
