Juniors Vote, Prom Semi-formal

Backman's in Scotch Plains will be the site of the Junior Prom to be held on Saturday, April 27. Since the class ballot taken the Friday before vacation decided by a small majority that semi-formal attire would be appropriate.

The theme ballot, Juniors indicated whether or not they would support a class outing to Bermuda. Although many of the students favored this proposal, plans for the affair have not yet been made.

Twelve Co-eds Spend Vacation In Bermuda

Picture it--seven days and six nights spent dancing under-balm Bermuda skies and swimming in sparkling coral waters. Sounds like a dream, doesn't it? Well, it was more like a dream come true as far as the eleven girls of Newark State's and their chaperones.

The group of twelve left La Guardia yesterday for the island on the afternoon of March 31st. Among the travellers were Nancy Caola, Linda Heyman, Sonny Griff, Glennys Grenda, Phyllis Schaeffer, Berta Hollander, Bertie Arberman, and Rhoda Branses.

Upon arrival the luxurious Bermudiana was their home for the week. This resort hotel is set in a colorful estate with flower, palm tree, and an exotic under-water-lighted garden pool-decorating the grounds.

With their basis of operations established, the group plunged into the activities of College Week. The Annual College Week in 1957 drew some 4,000 prep and college students from all over the United States and Canada for their spring vacations. Planned activities included College Days at the beach, tea dances, cruises, golf, tennis, sailing, and nightly dancing in the sunken gardens of the Bermudians. (Bearing no resemblance to ours.)

Of course, the students spent a lot of time investigating the island on their own and fell in love with it. Exclamations of "wonderful times" are still heard ringing through our hallowed halls.

Refresments & Minus Punch

Having found that a certain trivial vice common to all Newark States could not be suppressed, the administration decided that at least it would be better to keep it in the open.

A liquid refreshment stand was thereby installed next to the gym. Coke and Orange soda may now be purchased in school.

Popular Literary Critic To Speak At N.S.T.C.

Virgilio Peterson, a literary critic, guest at Newark State.

Ms. Peterson is an American, but her judgment of books is often colored by the glamorous background she has had on two continents. A New Yorker by birth, she was educated at Westover School in Connecticut, at Vassar College and at the University of Grenoble in Southern France.

Following a career writing articles for THE NEW YORKER, Ms. Peterson served as assistant director of publicity for the "New York Herald Tribune" in New York. At the same time, she was a book publicist, she served as assistant director of special events of Radio Free Europe, a post which gave her the large view on international relations. She also, wrote a series of profiles for "The Women of National Achievement" awards.

The system proposed is a complementary system to the existing one. According to Ms. Peterson, it will provide a more effective and fair way of handling academic matters. She further emphasized that the system should be implemented with a strong commitment to the principle of academic freedom.

Treasurers Meet To Decide Budget

Budget questionnaires regarding next year's appropriations will be given out today at a special meeting for all treasurers.

The questionnaires are based on the activities of the organizations, the amount of money appropriated the previous year, the amount of money spent, the membership, active and inactive, and the finance consuming meetings and affairs.

It will be necessary for organization leaders to justify funds spent for any activities, since the money is appropriated by the Student Council from student organization funds, which are paid by the individual students at the beginning of each semester.

If any organization is to receive any money next year, it is necessary that its treasurer attend this meeting.

Grenda, Gibson, Thompson, Mann, McDermott Run for President

Candidates for the offices of the Student Council will be presented to the student body this afternoon in the auditorium. Primary Elections will be held all day on the 10th followed by the General Elections on the 11th.

Student candidates for president are Glennys Grenda, William Gibson, Helen McDermott, Jerry Mann, and Lois Thompson. Finalists for vice-president are Sandy Birenbaum, Art Holder, Carl Kumpf, Marge Lauber, and Jerry McDermott.

Juniors Seek Yearbook Editor

Due to an unforeseen occurrence on the editorial board of the Memoralia the customary policy for selecting an editor-in-chief of the yearbook will have to be changed for the graduating class of 1958.

Bernie Mahon, Junior, and assistant editor of Memoralia announced that she would be unable to assume the position of editor next year and requested that any junior who feels that he would like to take on this difficult and all-important job should make his wish known to the Memoralia staff via the Student Mailbox.

Those applying for the position should have some experience in working on scholastic publications--whether it be the school paper or the yearbook. Candidates will be interviewed by the Memoralia staff and choice will be made on the basis of these interviews.

Four-Day Holiday!

After resting for a week during the Spring Vacation, the students and teachers at the college can look forward to another few days away from school studies. In accordance with its annual tradition, Newark State will be closed for the Easter holiday celebrations. All classes will convene at 3:45 p.m., Thursday, April 18th, for a four-day weekend. On the Tuesday following Easter Monday, the students will resume classes.

Honor System Talk Arouses Students

It was hardly an apathetic reaction which was prompted by the College Forum in their open discussion of the topic. 'Is Newark State Ready for an Honor System?'. Students left the meeting still arguing the pros and cons of such a policy.

The system proposed is a complete reversal of the current system. Under this new system students would take exams without a teacher in the room. Students would be permitted to leave the room for a cigarette break on their honor. It was pointed out that the system would take exams without a teacher in the room. Let My People Go

by Sonny Griff '59

And thou shalt tell thy son in that day, saying: "It is because of that which the Lord did for me when I came forth out of Egypt." (Exod. 13:8)

The story of Passover is the story of the Jewish people's search for freedom. It is the story of how God freed the early Israelites from slavery.

In Egypt there lived a Pharaoh who feared that the Jews would multiply and outnumber the Egyptians. So he ordered that all the Jews be enslaved and, in order to control the Jewish population, also ordered that all new-born Jewish boys be thrown into the Nile River.

There was one woman, Miriam, who refused to throw her son into the water. The boy, Moses, was placed in a basket and hidden in a bed of bulrushes.

The Pharaoh's daughter discovered the child and brought him to her. She called Moses, whom she learned was an Israelite. It was the Pharaoh's daughter who had saved him.

One day as Moses sat in the fields he saw a burning bush. From the bush came the voice of God. The voice told him to return to the land of Egypt and free his people.

So Moses returned to Egypt. He went to the Pharaoh and demanded that his people be freed. The Pharaoh, whose own son had been held captive by Moses and told him to take his people out of the land. The Jews went forth to the desert until they reached the Red Sea. When they turned to flee, the Egyptians were pursuing them. Then a miracle happened. The water parted, and the Israelites were able to cross. When they reached the other side, the waters closed over the Egyptians.

The Israelites journeyed for forty years until they reached the promised land of Canaan. There they settled and began a new life.

Passover, known as Pesach, reminds the Jews of the night when the Angel of Death passed over the houses of the Israelites, sparing their first-born, and only killing the first-born of the Egyptians. The language and the symbols of the Passover seder came from the fact that the Israelites fled Egypt. Their departure from Egypt had been so hasty that they had no time to prepare bread; instead, they baked their bread in the hot sun without leavening.

Passover, the Festival of Freedom, has been changed by the Jews throughout the ages. When eventually, conquerors took the land of Canaan, they forced the Israelites to flee from the land they loved. But always, Passover remains the flat bread the Israelites ate when they fled ages ago. When eventually, conquerors took the land cherished by the Jewish people throughout the ages, they forced the Israelites to flee from the land they loved. But always, Passover remains the flat bread the Israelites ate when they fled ages ago.

Passover is celebrated with a feast called the Passover seder, which is held on the evening of the fourteenth of Nisan, the day before the first day of Passover. The seder includes a meal that is eaten on the first and second nights of Passover, as well as a symbol of the past and hope for the future.

Resurrection of Hope

by Marilyn Thompson '59

As college students, we strive to approach everything on an intellectual level. However, our intellect has limitations, and one seems to be that Easter cannot be explained in a factual way only, much of its significance lies in what it does for, or means to, people.

Have you ever stopped for a moment to ques tion what Easter means? Some think that it is just a show, one Sunday during the year on which everyone displays his new Spring clothes. To others it is the commemoration of the birth of their religion. You may, as an individual, doubt the divinity of Christ and his resurrection which are celebrated on Easter day, but do you doubt the resurrection of hope or love when it is most needed?

Regardless of creed, there are thousands of people over the world, Jews, Catholics, and Protestants, who carry the true meaning of Easter in their hearts. Even though each might call it by a different name or identify it as a different feeling, it is the same feeling.

Easter is many things, it is one thing. It is the warm, bright summer sun, lifting the trees, bringing life to the earth. It is love in a child's shining eyes when he reaches for his mother and finds her. It is the joy in a young girl's heart when she suddenly knows that she is truly in love. It is the courage of a people enduring persecution, the strength of a nation fighting for freedom, the tears of thankfulness for a new life born. It is that unreal something which seems so very real.

The secret of Easter's meaning is held locked in each heart until it is needed. Then it spills out of its vault and floods the soul, or whatever you think it is that keeps you human, bringing new life. It needs to specific definition or explanation, because it is simply that which makes life truly worth living.

Easter, that Easter, is the Easter of which we all shall say, 'Yes! It is the life.'
Seek Renewed Interest For C. Shimko Scholarship

Several months ago when the Constance S. Shimko Memorial Scholarship Committee was formed, many members of the Junior Class expressed an interest in and a desire for assistance to the projects the Committee had planned to undertake. Since that time, the enthusiasm of that original group has dwindled to the point where it is almost non-existent. The intention of the Committee is to offer a tuition scholarship to a member of the Junior Class for the Senior year. This was to have been granted under the auspices of the Junior Class which was considered the fair thing in view of the time and effort which was to have been expended by junior class representatives toward the ultimate achievement, until the entire amount needed has been successfully acquired. Because of the proposed tuition increase, it will be necessary for us to raise more money than we had hoped. We refer to the support which we so greatly need in this endeavor. We are presently conducting a sale of greeting cards, stationery and novelty items in the Girls’ Locker Room. These articles are on display and the sale will continue throughout the month of April.

I know that it is not necessary for me to tell you that there is no personal gain on the parts of the people who have been working so diligently. Our only desire is to pay tribute to the memory of Connie Shimko by providing an opportunity for a junior to graduate even pleading for, is the wholehearted support of the junior class as and approval of the administration; all we are asking for now, yes, even pleading for, is the wholehearted support of the junior class as well as the entire student body.

Democratic representation in policy making is desirable in the conduct of any institution. Practically, every person affected by the decisions of a student organization should have representation in formulating and in executing these policies. Our Athletic Association, derived from each class, serves this purpose.

Establishment and maintenance of an athletic association is justifiable only if such an organization has important functions to perform in developing student leadership, initiative and responsibility. It can be very valuable with its contribution to the help the department manage and conduct home contests, select and train cheerleaders, develop and maintain standards for awards, promote good sportsmanship, and of course, be the nucleus of interest for the various athletic activities available at N.S.T.C.

A.A. Banquet Set

The Annual Athletic Association banquet was held this year on Thursday, May 23. A committee has been formed to work on the banquet with Charles Scheck serving as chairman, aided by Tricia D'Amore, several sub-committees have been organized and chairmen elected. These include: Diane Brown, invitations; Gloria Robinson, comedy; Isobel Ferrara, entertainment; Barbara Reckha, entertainment, Snooky Brown, publicity.

Other members of the banquet committee include Alice Simonds, June Deiter, Audrey Jenex, Anita Meggs, Frank Brinker, Mary Duffy, Karen Byrsk, Lillian Calabrese, Marilyn Carmine, and Fred Lawrence.

Members of the A.A. and active members of various organizations, as well as those recognized by the A.A. are eligible for invitation to the banquet. Awards will be given to the various athletic activities available at N.S.T.C. This year, the athletic activities included baseball, basketball, football, tennis, track, swimming, and swimming. The banquet was scheduled for Thursday, May 23, at 6:30 p.m. The Shoppo Mansion.

Letter to the Editor

To the Sports Editor

You have asked for a baseball schedule on this page. Why not put one on an optimistic note? The team is working hard—a combination of potential and hard work is the reason for the optimism—spirit in good health, and the boys I'm sure will produce. They have the usual accepted drawbacks of no field; however, practice games were arranged with Passaic, Nutley High School, and Upsala. The game was played at Viking Field on the Upsala campus. The pitching starters we will be tough. Taking charge of the basketball girls this year is Mrs. Scheck. There is a double-header scheduled against the seniors and juniors. The winning team will be the team with the best won-lost record. It is really a pleasure on a beautiful day to be out in the open. Come out and see for yourself.

Come Out to the Games

As basketball season progressed, attendance and interest improved greatly. This may be accounted for by the freshmen finding their own place in school and they started to take a part in school functions. By word of mouth, it was found that the games contained action packed and suspenseful moments and the cheerleaders enthusiasm radiated through the spectators.

Now with the baseball season approaching, it is hoped that this enthusiasm will carry over to the new spring sport. The team will control the momentum and that the students will want to contribute to the good of vets and frosh is the reason on an optimistic note? The team opening day it will have attained its potentiality. Additional exhibition games were played with Nutley High School and Upsala. The game was played at Viking Field on the Upsala campus.

Exhibition Games

In the first exhibition game, Newark showed up favorably against Upsala. The game was played at Viking Field on the Upsala campus. Additional exhibition games played with Nutley High School and the team shows it is slowly rounding into form. It is hoped that by opening day it will have attained its potentiality.

First Game of Season

The opening game of the season is Wednesday, April 3, with Newark Rutgers at Rogers Stadium in Harrison. We believe it will be a contest. Last Saturday St. Anthony played games at which Newark has had in the last couple of weeks it has put the team in better shape. Also with most of the veteran players back and the large turnout of freshmen, the team should prove to be tough.

The Work of the A.A.

By Elaine Nelson

Have you heard several students in the halls talking of their A.A. membership? If you were shocked when you heard this, put yourself in perspective. A.A. stands for Newark State's Athletic Association. Our A.A. has the tremendous job of governing the complete athletic program. Among their many responsibilities they operate the varsity sports of basketball and baseball; the interscholastic sports of men's deck tennis and volleyball, women's basketball and deck tennis; co-educational, as well as the selecting of cheerleaders for home games. Taking charge of the basketball girls has been of prime interest to the A.A. during the season. However, an all year round job is that of publicity for the athletic program. The standing issue that concerns the A.A. yearly is to work for the solution of athletic problems pertaining to both college and students.

What does the A.A. offer its members? The A.A. helps to operate. The members participate in this work. The A.A. provides for recognizing athletic problems at the college. These problems are analyzed by the individual students. The problem is taken back to the A.A. where proposals are made. Then, a sub-committee is taken, and a sub-committee organized to deal with the specific problems. This sub-committee, under student leadership, will further investigate and take action in the direction of what has been decided by the A.A. as a whole.

There are few times when the student has a chance to recognize what he likes or dislikes. If the student wants to improve, he can. If he wants to investigate, it takes his findings to a governing board where the people at half time and right up through the game consider his suggestions. In this way steady play of the whole Soph team began to tell as they began to make the slack left by Jerry Ferrara.

The managerial post will be filled by Sam Little of the Bull. No other man has been named as assistant manager at the writing of this article. Joe Simons, Frank Brookes, and Tom Merics are candidates. The game gets up this year with three head basketball coach and I feel more enthusiastic than ever about the coming season with the very fine twenty game schedule we have been working on.cio was a double-header win over highly touted Passaic and a 7-5 loss to dangerous Montclair.

Pitching

Any team goes as the pitching starters we will be tough. PITCHING. Any team goes as the pitching starters we will be tough. PITCHING. Any team goes as the pitching starters we will be tough. PITCHING. Any team goes as the pitching starters we will be tough.

Seniors and Victors

by Charles Schels

The inter-mural tournament was won by the Seniors after they defeated the Sophomores 40-32 in a game that had to go into overtime. The winning team was coached by Harry Marush and Walt Cymansky, head baseball coach and I feel more enthusiastic than ever about the coming season with the very fine twenty game schedule we have been working on. The next game was played between the Juniors and Seniors. The Juniors won 47-44 as Harry Marush poured in 27 points. Bob Giacobbe and Charlie Blase kept the Junior hopes alive right to the end by their fine passing and shooting. Bill Pletou fouled out in the second half as the Sophomores were unable to play. How­ever, they played a steady game against star Hank Kobick. In the other games of this double elimination tourney, the defending champions paired the Freshmen and Sophomores in the first game and the Juniors and Seniors in the second. Present at the meetings winning the championship was Shoppo that did the shooting for the Soph and the Juniors had Giacobbe to rely on. The lead changed hands almost constantly with the Juniors pulling away in the first half and then losing them in the final seconds of regulation time. They were able to tie it then pushing the game into overtime. Then in the first minute of overtime play with fewer men, this gave the Seniors a chance to use the fast break to great advantage and Coach Kobick's boys took the game.
