10-2-1959

The Reflector, Vol. 2, No. 2, October 2, 1959

Newark State College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.kean.edu/reflector_1950s

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.kean.edu/reflector_1950s/133

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Reflector at Kean Digital Learning Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Reflector 1950s by an authorized administrator of Kean Digital Learning Commons. For more information, please contact learningcommons@kean.edu.
The college library was officially designated the Nancy M. Thompson Library by formal ceremonies held on Wednesday, September 30. The program began at convocation in the gymnasium. Presiding was Eugene O. Wilkins, who opened the ceremony and introduced Dr. Roger McDonough, Librarian of the State of New Jersey Archives and History. Dr. Felix E. Hirsch, President of the College and University section of the New Jersey Library Association, and Mr. William King, Coordinator of Audio-Visual Education for the New Jersey Department of Education, also expressed the hope that the library would provide many students at Newark State the opportunity to attain greater intellectual development.

The dedication address, which preceded the unveiling of the new library facade, was delivered by Mr. Leonard Johnson, Executive Secretary of the New Jersey Manufacturer's Association.

The dedication and responsive reading was then delivered by President Wilkins and the student body. Immediately following, Dr. Frederic Arnold accepted on behalf of the Faculty and Mr. Jerry Minoff accepted for the student body. Miss Barbara Dominowski, ’62, played the alma mater on the school carillon.

In the afternoon, the members of the library staff served as hosts to the guests and friends of Miss Thompson at a luncheon on the campus facilities.

Miss Nancy Thompson, College Librarian from 1914-1957, now resides in Laceyville, Pennsylvania.

Dewey Centennial To Be Marked

Plans for the John Dewey Centennial celebration have been announced by Mr. Rychard Fink, chairman of the Centennial Committee.

The first event in a series in tribute to this giant of Western philosophy—a discussion—will take place Friday, October 16, in the D’Angelo gymnasium. The speakers will be W.W. Atkinson (New York University), Louise Jouett (Wayne State University) and Otto Krasn (Yeshiva University).

The following day the College will present the main event, a program designed to offer participants an opportunity to listen and discuss some of the critical issues in American education.

Hereafter, a Roger Deweyian and a Rogerian movement, will examine "The Challenge of the Social Philosophy of John Dewey." Small group conferences will explore four phases of that challenge: "John Dewey in the School and the Child," "John Dewey in the School and the Culture," "John Dewey and the American Heritage" and "John Dewey and the Frontiers of Education." The respective directors of the groups will be John Brooks, (New Lincoln School), Ward Madden (Brooklyn College), John Payne (New York University) and Van Cleave Morris (Rutgers).

Open, informal discussion will accompany the luncheon which is scheduled for one o’clock. The day’s events will come to a close at two o’clock. The fee for the day’s program, including the luncheon, is $3.00; interested students should contact Mr. Fink for reservations.

Community Lecture Series

On October 21 the faculty of Newark State College will initiate its 1959 Community Lecture Series as part of the John Dewey Centennial Celebration. The lectures are scheduled for Wednesday evenings October 21, October 28 and November 4 and November 18 at 8:00 in the Little Theatre. The first speaker will be Maxine Green (New York University); he will be followed by Marc Brith (Queens College) and Frederic Neff (Wayne State University); Rychard Fink of this college will conclude the series. Admission to the lectures is free and the public is invited. It is advisable to contact Mr. Fink early to reserve seats.

Mr. Fink, by contracting such a program with the New State student, the aspiring-educator, with an opportunity to become more aware of the world in which he will soon find himself and the ideas of that man whose contributions to that world are so many and so great. "The point about his ideas today is not that they may be misunderstood, but that they will not be dis­ discussed fully and frankly." Those students participating in the celebration will be furthering that ideal which is honesty and discussion and knowledge realization of objectives.
Our Dr. Pangloss

Mr. James Downes is resting easier these nights because he is no longer faculty advisor to the Reflector. You see, in my opinion, this type of dictatorial paternalism is entirely unnecessary. The present leadership of the Student Association is generally capable, and should be allowed to plan their own schedules. The present leadership is generally capable, and should be allowed to plan their own schedules.

Letters to the Editor
Big Brother be Damned

To the Editors:

Would someone please enlighten me as to the reason behind the presence of a photographe in our lounge in the Student Center? I would like to have this matter investigated further. It is not the first time that someone without authorization has attempted to take photographs of students.

This ludicrous situation was brought to my attention the other day when several of us went into the lounge to play a recording made by one of our friends. As a result of the presence of the photographe, we were forced to leave. This situation is unacceptable and should be addressed by the Student Center management.

I have informed the Student Center management of the situation. I believe that the Student Center management is responsible for ensuring that students are not disturbed in this manner.

Sincerely,

[Fred Miller '61]

Weekly News Analysis

Senator Case and "The Boss"

by Arthur Holten

Our country has seen many political bosses. Frank Hague, Bogy Long, Mayor Curley, and Mark Hanna are probably the best known. However, few have achieved the prominence of J. Robert Oppenheimer; for about a decade he has been our nation's most powerful political leader. Oppenheimer has been accused of being a government agency's agent, but he also has been praised for his work in creating the atomic bomb. Oppenheimer's political influence is based on his knowledge of science and his ability to convince others of his views. Oppenheimer's political influence is based on his knowledge of science and his ability to convince others of his views. Oppenheimer's political influence is based on his knowledge of science and his ability to convince others of his views.

Publisher

Fred Miller '61

Theater

Destr oy Rides Again

by "Brooks" Oderman

Tom Destr oy has been granted a year by Max Brann's novel, and four cinema versions. He is a film director whose time is this year's highest, he manages to marry. And there is no horse on stage.

Mr. Michael Kidd has caused many of his theatre-goers to lean back in their seats, and to laugh with peculiar, wobbled faces. As in "Lil Abner", Mr. Kidd has filled his stage with a horse, which cannot walk, but which can act and a book that is from swift-paced. The spoken dialogue is not comedy, but only an opportunity to give the audience a well- needed rest after those strenuous moments. Would the show be titled "An Evening of Western Dancing" the packed house would have laughed, and the twirling was done.

Why doesn't someone adapt "Lady Chatterley's Lover" for the musical stage and give it the provocative title "How Does Your Garden Grow?

Once Upon a Mattress

"Once Upon a Mattress", now playing at the Phoenix theatre in Newark State, is not quite as joy as one is liable to find these days. And that's saying something.

You all know, of course, the story of the Princess and the Pea and the Twenty Downy Mattresses. Using this as a point of departure, Mr. Kidd has brought in a new heroine, a woman who can neither walk nor speak, who cannot even act and a book that is from swift-paced. The spoken dialogue is not comedy, and only an opportunity to give the audience a well-needed rest after those strenuous moments. Would the show be titled "An Evening of Western Dancing" the packed house would have laughed, and the twirling was done.

Towards the week's end, there were few evident signs of the cheering audience.

[Reflector]

Editor in Chief • • Robert Treat '60

Managing Editors • • Arlene Fine '61

Copy Editors • • Vernick '62

Staff Writers • • Richard Barnard '62

Managing Art • • Robert场馆 '62

Art Director • • L. D. Morgan '62

Artistic Director • • Tom Destr oy '60

Adviser • • Mr. Matthew Dolkey

Member: New Jersey State College Press Association; New Jersey Collegiate Press Association; Collegiate Press...
Little stops along the way to Rome included Rimini, a wonderful seaside resort where we could swim in the Adriatic Sea, Rovenna, and San Marino, the free republic located atop the mountains. Rimini was a wonderful city. The Coloseum, so tremendous in size and the ruins of the forum were such a magnificent reminder of Rome's past. We were also impressed with the grandeur of the beautiful, famed paintings of Michelangelo in the Sanato Chapel.

Sightseeing included such things as Victor Emanuel Monument, the Colosseum, Vatica City, St. Peter's with its beautiful works of Michelangelo, the edifices of the Vatican, the Spanish Steps, the Pantheon, and the beautiful paintings of Michelangelo in the Sixtine Chapel. The Grand Tour included visits to churches, castles, palaces, and gardens. The paints of Rome were with Pope John XXIII and the opera Aida presented in all its splendid color and natural acumen in the ancient Baths of Corinna. The day was pleasant in Rome and we bathed in the warm sun and drank the water. Hollywood had made it a spectacular in the movie—movie made in Rome.

Naples was so crowded and dirty, but just booming, and the isle of Capri, a pleasure land of beauty which has become very commercialized. Returning to Naples, we passed Mount Vesuvius and it was sending smoke signals.

We found ourselves at last, in what is considered one of the most beautiful cities in the world, Florence. Here we saw the Duomo, Santa Maria Novella, of St. Mary's Garden open-air theatre, we saw "A Midsummer Night's Dream", "The Taming of the Shrew", "Lester Square, Oxford Square, Trafalgar Square and many other sights.

Riding the double-decker buses was different for us, and we enjoyed it. Rome is a beautiful city, and not some ignorant four-letter-word voyer posing as one, it is to be expected that even the less picturesque segments of the book would have a value that is self-sufficient and constant. Even in the book, the characters react part, these expectations are realized. The Hamlet is undoubtedly a masterpiece, and, as I have already said, if this were my first time to read, I would be tempted to call it great. Unfortunately, those who have seen what Faulkner can do at his best may be a bit annoyed to find a few obvious typographical errors, a few obvious typographical errors.

It was time to say goodbye. It was a great trip and a great memory. We were all sad to leave, but we knew that we would return. We were all eager to see. The Arch of Triumph, the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame, Michelangelo and Raphael and the Vatican museum where we saw the beauxvul, famed paintings of Michelangelo in the Sistene Chapel. Then we took the RER to Paris and there we spent the next few weeks. The next few weeks were spent in Paris. We were back to expensive stores and tall buildings and hotels. We were back to the fashion show and the opera. The next few weeks were spent in Paris. We were back to expensive stores and tall buildings and hotels. We were back to the fashion show and the opera.

Europe Thru My Eyes

(Continued from last issue)

by Joan Talbot

The ambitious son of a migrant Mississippi tenant farmer decides to better his lot in life. He sets about accomplishing this by getting a job in the cotton fields. Life is hard work in the cotton fields, but he rises to a position of prominence in the hamlet of Farmer's Bend. It is the story of his machinations, and how they affect a community and himself. It is a classic novel that is a must-read for any student of modern literature. (Modern Library Paperback, P 18, 95$.)

Since this was a good book and not some ignorant four-letter-word voyer posing as one, it is to be expected that even the less picturesque segments of the book would have a value that is self-sufficient and constant.

Europe Thru My Eyes

(Continued from last issue)

by Joan Talbot

The ambitious son of a migrant Mississippi tenant farmer decides to better his lot in life. He sets about accomplishing this by getting a job in the cotton fields. Life is hard work in the cotton fields, but he rises to a position of prominence in the hamlet of Farmer's Bend. It is the story of his machinations, and how they affect a community and himself. It is a classic novel that is a must-read for any student of modern literature. (Modern Library Paperback, P 18, 95$.)

Since this was a good book and not some ignorant four-letter-word voyer posing as one, it is to be expected that even the less picturesque segments of the book would have a value that is self-sufficient and constant.
This week-end the best football players in the nation began the struggle for the championship of professional football. This year as in years gone by, the team rated lowest in the National Football League would probably whip the best college pluggers in the nation. Let us take a quick look at the teams which will be fighting for the crown of professional football.

Of course, in connection with the usual excitement, Baltimore Colts are once more picked to rule the western conference. The experts, however, believe that the Los Angeles Rams will give the Colts a run for their money. There is no team in the west to compare with John Unitas, Alan Ameche and l. C. DuPre, and company. The only team that may throw a scare into the Colts is the Detroit Lions, who have a rockribbed defense comparable to that of the Colts, and with Tobin Rule at the helm the Lions could claw the entire league. Many feel the Chicago Bears will win the conference crown, but they need more than Rick Caseres and Harlon Hill. Offense is the biggest problem. The experts, however, believe the Los Angeles Rams will give the Colts a run for their money. The Rams are a team that has a good defense and a competent offense.

The Cleveland Browns are picked to finish a close second by experts. This writer believes that the Philadelphia Eagles, Cleveland Cardinals, and Pittsburgh Steelers will finish before the Browns. The only team Cleveland will be in front of at the finish is the Washington "No-not the Senators," but Redkins. Cleveland will need more than Jim Brown and Lou Groza if they are to go anywhere. The Redkins, with little Eddie Leflar can't go anywhere, but it is quite doubtful that they will. The reason for picking the Steelers and Eagles ahead of Cleveland lies in the quality of backfield. Bobby Layne and Norm Van Brocklin can make any team look good. The Cardinals while trading Ollie Matson to the Los Angeles Rams received tremendous help in the defensive department and should be a challenge to most any team.

Now for a look at my predictions. How far off do you think I will be?

1. New York Giants
2. Cleveland Browns
3. Philadelphia Eagles
4. Chicago Bears
5. Cleveland Browns

Tonight, Oct. 2nd. & Every Friday Night
DAVE SABLESKI PRESENTS
Bandstand Dance Party
at the Irvington House

Meet The Freshmen
by Mike Duffy

In the near future students will be called upon to represent their class in Intramural basketball. Last year Newark State had a fine successful year in the program considering it was our first year for it. This year we expect the program to expand and we want all those who are available to take part in them.

The first of the sports will be Intramural basketball for the men of the college. There is a place for everyone. Players, scorekeepers, ref's, timekeepers, and managers are needed. Each class will be given a certain amount of points based on their participation in respect to the male attendance.

Some people from last year may recall the incident at the Athletic Dinner with the seniors. This year however the team with the best record will be declared the winner, and not the senior class alone.

Last year many games were forfeited because of Seabees permission when students lost interest. This year we hope it will last another entire year.

For the girls, badminton, ping pong, and volleyball are available. It seems that a lot of the facilities are available for the girls they should take advantage of it.

Keep up to date with the news in the Reflector and watch for notices on the bulletin board.

Women Are Here To Stay
Women's Recreation Association by Marcia C. Friedman

Tests of activities are on the agenda for the week of September 25. A deck tennis tournament will be Thursday afternoon with a dance to follow. Volleyball players got together on Wednesday afternoon. The week of October 5 has quite a bit in store for everyone. Trampolining will be Thursday afternoon. Volleyball will be held Friday and Saturday. Co-ed trampolining will be Thursday's feature. Trampolining will be held weekly and convene at 3:30 in the gym. There is room for everyone to come in and have fun. The first of the sports will be Intramural basketball. There is a place for everyone, players, scorekeepers, ref's, timekeepers, and managers are needed. Each class will be given a certain amount of points based on their participation in respect to the male attendance.

Some people from last year may recall the incident at the Athletic Dinner with the seniors. This year however the team with the best record will be declared the winner, and not the senior class alone.

Last year many games were forfeited because of Seabees permission when students lost interest. This year we hope it will last another entire year.

For the girls, badminton, ping pong, and volleyball are available. It seems that a lot of the facilities are available for the girls they should take advantage of it.

Keep up to date with the news in the Reflector and watch for notices on the bulletin board.

Freshmen Hazing
(Continued from Page 3)

The coveted beanie is to be awarded on the last day of school and will be reserved for the Freshmen. The Freshmen will be permitted to wear beanie until October 30.

Sophomores who wish to be a part of hazing must wear their beanie in order to do so. No one can have a beanie (No tieckie, no shirttie.)

The Junior class will act as guards for the Freshmen, that they are dressed in accordance with the rules. The list of said rules will be passed out to the entire student body that the beginning of hazing-So Freshmen Beware!

Series Preview
by Louie Miller

By the time you receive your copy of the Reflector most of the major issues of the 1959 baseball season will have been settled. Therefore, our series will not be able to speculate. The only settled issue to date is that the "Go Go Go Chixois" from the windy city will be the American League representatives to the annual fall festival of bats and balls. In the senior circuit the battle still rages between the many men from Milwaukee, and the Alston boys from L.A. With the Dodgers now holding a big one game edge in the playoffs, we feel they will go all the way to the senior league representation.

As far as the series goes, we can make only tentative predictions depending upon the outcome of the Dodgers - Brave play off. Should the Braves come back to win, we think they will then go on to defeat the '57 champs. From there we can only speculate.

The only settled issue to date is that the "Go Go Go Chixois" from the windy city will be the American League representatives to the annual fall festival of bats and balls. In the senior circuit the battle still rages between the many men from Milwaukee, and the Alston boys from L.A. With the Dodgers now holding a big one game edge in the playoffs, we feel they will go all the way to the senior league representation.

As far as the series goes, we can make only tentative predictions depending upon the outcome of the Dodgers - Brave play off. Should the Braves come back to win, we think they will then go on to defeat the '57 champs. From there we can only speculate.

The only settled issue to date is that the "Go Go Go Chixois" from the windy city will be the American League representatives to the annual fall festival of bats and balls. In the senior circuit the battle still rages between the many men from Milwaukee, and the Alston boys from L.A. With the Dodgers now holding a big one game edge in the playoffs, we feel they will go all the way to the senior league representation.

As far as the series goes, we can make only tentative predictions depending upon the outcome of the Dodgers - Brave play off. Should the Braves come back to win, we think they will then go on to defeat the '57 champs. From there we can only speculate.

The only settled issue to date is that the "Go Go Go Chixois" from the windy city will be the American League representatives to the annual fall festival of bats and balls. In the senior circuit the battle still rages between the many men from Milwaukee, and the Alston boys from L.A. With the Dodgers now holding a big one game edge in the playoffs, we feel they will go all the way to the senior league representation.

As far as the series goes, we can make only tentative predictions depending upon the outcome of the Dodgers - Brave play off. Should the Braves come back to win, we think they will then go on to defeat the '57 champs. From there we can only speculate.

The only settled issue to date is that the "Go Go Go Chixois" from the windy city will be the American League representatives to the annual fall festival of bats and balls. In the senior circuit the battle still rages between the many men from Milwaukee, and the Alston boys from L.A. With the Dodgers now holding a big one game edge in the playoffs, we feel they will go all the way to the senior league representation.