I hope my dear Susan feels herself in good health and spirits this morning, which commences the happiest day of my life and hers also. I flatter myself — I have had the ring altered — I hope it will meet your approbation — it is the symbol of eternal happiness, because it has no end, nor doth man know its beginning — and like it, although we know the commencement of our felicity, yet, it is, my sincere fervent prayer, that we may never know the end of it —

Adieu

Heaven bless you.

Thursday Morn.
